Thought Husband Died of "Mental Arsenical Poisoning."

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
CONCORD (N. H.) Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Counsel for the "next friends," plaintiffs in the Eddy suit, following their announced intention to show that the venerable head of the Christian Science cult is insane, and has been for years, today introduced into the trial the reading of voluminous correspondence to show the delusions under which Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy is said to have lived. Some of the points brought out by the plaintiffs were sensational in the extreme.

John Kelly, representing the relatives of Mrs. Eddy, who are suing for an accounting of her estate, produced the letters, all of which were written by Mrs. Eddy.

One of them contained the statement by the head of the Christian Science church that she believed a publisher who had delayed sending to her some proofs of certain of her writings was governed by "M. A. M." which has been explained by followers of Mrs. Eddy to mean "malicious animal magnetism." This letter caused broad smiles on the faces of counsel for the plaintiff.

Mr. Kelly read other letters written by Mrs. Eddy, containing peculiar expressions of conviction that events affecting her daily life were due to other than natural physical causes. Gen. Streeter and other counsel for Mrs. Eddy constantly objected to the reading of these epistles, but the special masters whom the court appointed showed a disposition to allow the plaintiffs to go very deeply into the matter of Mrs. Eddy's "delusions" or "delusions," as the lawyers for the plaintiffs variously styled her peculiar beliefs.

"MENTAL ARSENICAL POISONING."
 One letter which was alleged to show that Mrs. Eddy had insisted on an autopsy upon the body of her husband, to ascertain whether or not he had been "the victim of arsenical poisoning, mentally administered," was shown to have been written in 1882, and, on the objections of Gen. Streeter, was ruled out by the masters, as being too remote to have any direct bearing on the question at issue.

Mr. Kelly asked for an order to bring Mrs. Eddy into court, or permit her examination under regular court proceedings at her home, and with several of the plaintiffs present, and he also asked for an order for the production next Monday of the books in possession of several of the Eddy trustees. Both motions were taken under advisement.

The remainder of the session was occupied with the introduction by the "next friends," subject to exceptions by Mr. Streeter, of letters written by Mrs. Eddy to her adopted son, Dr. E. J. Foster Eddy, while he was acting as her publisher, and subsequently, in them she referred to "M. A. M." the "Red Dragon," "Mental Malpractice," etc., as being used to hinder her work and its publication, and directed the use of arguments to overcome this "evil work."

STUDENTS DIG FOR METEOR.
 Heavenly Visitor Strikes in Swamp Near Omaha and College Boys Locate It.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
OMAHA (Neb.) Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fifty students of Creighton University dug all day today in the swamps of East Omaha for an immense meteor which fell there last night.

The work is being done under the supervision of the astronomical department of the university, and when recovered the meteor will be placed in the museum of that school.
 The meteor flashed across the heavens shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night, and the impact with the earth was felt all over East Omaha. Yesterday morning the hole made by the meteor in the soft earth was found. It is five feet across. The sides fell in above the meteor, and its depth is unknown.

SAN FRANCISCO IS ROASTED BY HARRIMAN.

Failure of People to Take Advantage of Opportunity to Beautify City Is Declared by Railroad Magnate to Be Criminal.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I am disappointed at the looks of San Francisco," said Mr. E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, today, "because they asked me to take it, but I have other ways that I prefer of making my money. All in good time we shall get in here with a passenger terminal and a building. That is all I care to say now. What I think of the future of San Francisco ought to be pretty well exemplified in the work that has been done on that bay-shore cut-off. This is answer enough as to my faith in the great future of this city."

"In the future railroading will run to electricity more and more, particularly here. Electricity is only in its infancy yet. The big problem with me is what to do with the Sierra crossing. That is the only weak link in our chain. It is still a grave question. Whether we shall tunnel the range at a lower grade or adopt some other engineering scheme is something I have not yet been able to decide. To put that tunnel under the Sierra would probably eventually cost nearly $30,000,000. I hesitate to order it done, because after it was completed we might find there was a far better solution. We are doing a good deal of work up there as it is."

"Personally I have never been against the business situation is good. As I have favored them, but the railroads ought to have protection as well as Federal regulation. I believe they ought to be subject to the consent of some authorized body. Yes, regulate the railroads, but don't crush them. Some day I'll show you some correspondence I've had on this subject. I will show things up in a different light. It may not come up till I'm gone, but things I've done will be there understood. That is all I can say about it at this time."

"I cannot find fault with the railroad situation. We're doing very well. We've got to have troubles occasionally, but the business situation is good. As I remarked coming across on the boat: 'I don't see why any kick should be coming from me.'"

Asked about his connection with recent attacks from the White House, Mr. Harriman refused to be drawn into any expression.
 "I'm taking no interest in politics whatever. I am not seeking popularity," he declared. Mr. Harriman evinced a desire to talk freely on most subjects, but he preserved an absolute silence on politics and railroad legislation.

He was noticeably affable in contrast to his habit on former visits when newspaper interviews were generally curt and formal. In mentioning his probable stay of ten days he qualified it with the remark that he would remain as long "unless my business in different parts of the country decide otherwise."

Admirals Cowles and Capps Will Visit San Diego This Month.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN DIEGO, Aug. 16.—Commander A. C. Alm, in charge of the naval coaling station now being established on Point Loma, received a letter from Admiral Cowles, Chief of the Bureau of Equipment of the navy, stating that he and Admiral Capps, Chief of the Bureau of Construction, will arrive in San Francisco from Bremerton August 15, and that they expect to arrive in San Diego the latter part of the following week.

Democratic Leader, in Response to Invitation, Sends Communication to Count Omuka's Organ in Which He Asserts Friendliness of United States for Nippon.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
OMAHA (Neb.) Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In response to an invitation from its editor, K. Minoura, W. J. Bryan has written a letter to the Hoshi Shimbun, of Tokyo, the organ of Count Omuka, in which he says there is a friendly feeling in this country for the people of Japan and expresses the opinion that there will be no war between Japan and the United States. He said:

"Our people entertain a very friendly feeling for the people of Japan. The progress of your nation has been watched with pride and satisfaction. Our interest being increased by the fact that our example has had some influence in inspiring your development. I see no reason why the two nations should not be mutually helpful and rejoice in each other's growth and prosperity."

"The inflammatory utterances attributed to some of your politicians have excited some resentment here, but the vast majority of Americans, both of our countries discontinue any thought of war. Neither government is likely to do anything of which the other can justly complain."

"If any of your citizens residing here suffer injustice our courts are open to them just as your courts are open to our citizens residing there. In matters of immigration, each nation, of course, has, and should, exercise the right to protect its own interests and I am sure that neither nation will impose restrictions except when these restrictions are necessary."

"Speaking as an American, I am confident that such regulations as may be made by the United States concerning immigration will be made with a view to preserving amicable relations rather than that of offending."

"I am sure that your nation will permit immigration to such an extent as to raise a race question or to excite race animosities. Your nation has had experience enough with Korea and China to know that race prejudice is an element in human nature which cannot be ignored."

"Sincerely anxious to do justice, and sincerely anxious to be on good terms with all the world, our nation will meet Japan in a spirit of candor and I have no doubt that such differences of opinion as may from time to time arise, will be settled to the satisfaction of both nations through their diplomatic representatives."

ANTHRAX PROVES FATAL.

Deaths Are Caused in Galicia and in Budapest by Consumption of Diseased Meat.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BUDAPEST, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A dangerous outbreak of anthrax has occurred in Roless, Szatmar and Pozsony counties, and the farmers there are in despair. The spread of the disease is attributed to the presence of infected cattle from Galicia, where members of several families have died from eating the meat. Three deaths have occurred in the same county as reported in this city.

The export of hides to America has been stopped, causing serious loss to Hungarian commerce.

Two of Worst Storms in Years Destroy Buildings and Ruin Crops in Iowa.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DES MOINES (Iowa) Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Within the space of twenty-four hours Iowa has been visited by two of the most disastrous storms in years. Last night a terrific storm swept the Des Moines River Valley from Des Moines to Keokuk, destroying buildings and devastating crops. Tonight a hailstorm, which lasted five minutes, ruined thousands of acres of corn. Pelting chunks of ice caused several teams to run away. The damage to crops in Central Iowa will be enormous.

CRISIS IS REACHED.

Morocco Mess Puts France to Test.

Break-Up of Authority of Sultan Is Believed to Be at Hand.

British Foreign Office Hesitates to Predict What Result Will Be.

London Newspapers Expect Historic Events to Occur Shortly.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ONDON, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Heaven only knows what will come out of this Casa Blanca imbroglio," expresses the state of mind which the inquirer encounters at the British Foreign Office.

This afternoon it was feared that the long-expected break-up of Moroccan authority is at hand, in which event it is thought that French mettle will be tested as never hitherto since the struggle with Germany.

Great Britain adheres to its frequently-stated view that France is entitled to the first political consideration should the divided régime in Morocco go down in anarchy. It also believes that Germany poses a serious threat to this view, and that, therefore, everything depends upon the vigor and ability with which France meets the crisis.

It is stated at the Foreign Office that France is determined to see length which developments may require, always guaranteeing to the other powers scrupulous respect for their treaty and other rights.

SULTAN'S POWER IS NIL.
 It is doubted whether the Sultan of Morocco can exercise even a semblance of control along the Atlantic coast, or indeed, anywhere beyond a few miles outside of Fez. All reports received thus far indicate that no European power will hamper the French fleet and army, together with the forces of Spain, in the work of dealing with stages of towns, or, if necessary, taking steps looking to the pushing of operations against the Moors.

Movements at the Admiralty show that Great Britain foresees the possibility of a fierce struggle and intends to range itself determinedly with the nations that are striving to avert a grave conflict, while at the same time responding to the demands of civilization for the restoration of order.

Some of the newspapers of London are hurrying out correspondents in the belief that historic events may be imminent.

MEETING OF RULERS MAKES FRANCE UNEASY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PARIS, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Premier attaches the utmost importance to the interview between King Edward and Kaiser Wilhelm.

The comments indicate uneasiness on the part of the writers, who quote the opinions of the English and German papers and seek to find the real reason of the meeting.

They apparently fear that arrangements were concluded which may prove to be of disadvantage to France.

INTERIM IN FIGHTING AT CASA BLANCA.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
TANGIER, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gen. Drude has had twenty-four hours of peace. The tribesmen, who are reported to be concentrating their forces for a grand attack, have not been seen and the French soldiers, who have shown the utmost bravery and stamina, are taking a well-earned rest.

But the seeming security of the camp is only seeming. Gen. Drude is thoroughly prepared against any surprise, and if he should be attacked by even 20,000 Moors, he will be able to repel them.

Casa Blanca was quiet today, and the interim in the fighting was spent in cleaning up the streets, burning the bodies of the dead and succoring the destitute.

It is believed that France will need to send more troops to Morocco.

FRANCE MUST BRAVE WRATH OF GERMANY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PARIS, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "France can do no less than protect the foreigners within Morocco," even if it requires her entire navy and army to do so."

In this language a high official of the French government today expressed the general attitude of the government toward the crisis which now confronts it in Morocco. It is regarded as unfortunate in the extreme that the terms of the Algiers convention should be regarded as limiting the action which France shall take in this crisis to prevent an outbreak of a general holy war on the Barbary Coast. But France has no thought of weakening. As one official said yesterday:

"France must either refuse to do her full duty and sink to the level of a second-class power or brave Germany's wrath, and suppress this uprising of the wild tribesmen of Morocco."

That Germany is growing more and more uneasy and suspicious is conceded. But with almost daily attacks

WIVES CORROBORATE HUSBANDS' SHAME.

Mrs. Boxton and Mrs. Loneragan
Testify That They Received Boodle Money from Their Spouses and Counted It.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two wives took the witness stand in the Glass case today to corroborate their husbands' shame. Mrs. Charles Boxton and Mrs. Emma Loneragan, wives of the disgraced ex-supervisors, testified that they had received and counted the boodle brought home by their spouses. The testimony of the women made an effect on both jurors and spectators. Counsel for the prosecution was lenient in questioning the women, and the defense questioned them not at all. They came quickly, gave the testimony desired by the prosecution, and departed.

Four more ex-supervisors nonchalantly told the attorneys of their corruption before Judge Lawrence. They were Jennings W. Phillips, John W. Pusey, Andrew M. Wilson and Max Mamlock. It was the same sort of tale. Meetings with Halsey, pilgrimages to his office in the Mills building, the five envelopes, and finally confession and immunity.

Mrs. Boxton was put upon the stand in the morning session. When her name was called by the bailiff, she came down and sat in the witness chair. She was dressed in a white dress and heavily veiled. The spectators looked at her with sympathetic glances. On taking the witness chair, she resolutely drew a heavy veil and faced the ordeal through which she was to be put by the Assistant District Attorney.

In the early part of March did your husband give you an envelope containing $5000 in currency? asked Halsey.

"Yes," replied the witness, in a whisper. Halsey asked her a few further questions and she said she had placed the money in a safe deposit vault.

"We have no questions to ask," said Attorney Delmas, in mellow tones, and Mrs. Boxton hurried from the courtroom to be met by her husband outside.

MRS. LONERAGAN APPEARS.

Mrs. Loneragan's name was called, but there was no response. In the afternoon the wife of the ex-supervisor was brought to the courtroom in the prosecution's automobile, accompanied by her husband and Detective William J. Burns. She was dressed in a pale green dress and drew a heavy veil. She sat calmly about the courtroom as she strolled down the aisle to the witness seat.

In February, 1935, asked Halsey, did your husband hand you an envelope containing $4000 in United States currency?

"Yes, sir," replied Mrs. Loneragan, with her eyes on the carpet.

"Before that did he hand you $1000?" continued Halsey.

"Yes, sir," faltered the woman.

"After that did Mr. Loneragan ask you to give him back some of the $1000?"

"How much?"

"One thousand dollars,"

Halsey did not press the examination further. Delmas said he had no questions to ask, and Mrs. Loneragan hurried out of the courtroom, as did Mrs. Boxton.

PHILLIPS' TESTIMONY.

Phillips followed Mrs. Boxton. He testified that Halsey came to his office and first broached the proposition. Later there was a meeting in the Mills building, where Phillips said he could not be friendly to the Pacific States Telephone Company unless released by Halsey. Halsey offered him $5000 if he would stand by the telephone company. On the next visit, Phillips accepted and received the same amount of an envelope which his colleagues had received. Like the others, Phillips did not open it at once, but placed it in his safe. When he finally opened the envelope, there was $5000 in paper money. Phillips said Halsey had promised him $5000 later.

Delmas laid considerable stress upon the immunity contracts which had been given the hoodlums by the prosecution.

During the first trial, Delmas did not go into this phase of the case and placed the ex-supervisors before the jury as men of good character and sympathy. This time, however, the attorney for the defense has assumed another tack, and is endeavoring to strip the hoodlums of any honesty or morality they might possess.

"Did you testify here under terms of immunity for such offenses as you have committed?" asked Delmas of Phillips.

"Yes."

"By whom and when was that contract of immunity given to you?"

"The first offer was made to me in the Gladstone Apartments, by Mr. Langdon, Spreckels, Burns and my attorney, Owens, were present," testified Phillips. He said he had written a contract in July in the chambers of the Board of Supervisors.

"Did you understand that Ruef was included in the contract?" asked Delmas.

"I so understood," replied the witness.

He was vigorous in objecting to the witness answering this question. The case went over until Monday.

BOXTON'S WIFE TELLS OF COUNTING BRIBE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.] SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—The wife of former Supervisor Dr. Charles Boxton was the first witness called this morning by the prosecution in the Glass bribery trial.

Mrs. Boxton was handsomely attired in a tailored suit of flannel set off by a large black picture hat. She wore a black veil.

Mrs. Boxton's testimony was brief. She told of her husband's bringing home and counting to her the $5000 in currency which Boxton declares was paid him as a bribe by T. V. Halsey, agent of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company. Mrs. Boxton escaped from the stand without the ordeal of cross-examination.

Former Supervisor Jennings J. Phillips was called by the prosecution. He testified to the acceptance by him of various bribes from representatives of several public utility corporations against them T. V. Halsey, who, he said, gave him $5000 to vote against the Home Telephone Company's application for a rival franchise. Phillips, on cross-examination, said he was testifying under an immunity contract.

INCLUDED RUEF.

A lively tilt occurred between Halsey and Delmas during the cross-examination of Phillips by the latter.

asked Delmas, "that the immunity contract under which you are now testifying included Abraham Ruef?"

Halsey objected vigorously, claiming that this was an effort to inject a foreign matter. Delmas replied that in the former trial of Glass the question had been ruled proper by the court. Judge Lawrence cut short the quarrel with asperity and over-ruled Halsey's objection.

"Yes," answered Phillips, "that was my information."

Delmas examined by Halsey, he said he had been told by Supervisor Gallagher—the prosecution's whip—that the same offer of immunity, under the same conditions, of turning State's evidence, was to be made to Ruef.

DELMAS GETS AT FACTS.

"And do you not know," demanded Delmas, in re-cross-examination, "that Ruef has never been brought to trial on any of the many bribery indictments hanging over him?"

"And do you not know that though he pleaded guilty six months ago to a charge of extortion, he has never been sentenced?"

"Yes, that is a matter of common knowledge."

"And do you not know that he never has been sent to jail like an ordinary prisoner, but is maintained in a private establishment under guard of an officer, at an expense of $1000 or $1500 a month to the city?"

"Yes, I know that by common notoriety," said Phillips.

"Do you know of any conceivable impediment to the pronouncing of sentence upon Ruef in the extortion case, outside of a contract of immunity?" asked Delmas.

"No," answered Phillips, "I don't."

RUEF THE TEMPER.

It developed in the earlier examination of Phillips that he did not accept a bribe from the Pacific States Telephone Company until after a talk with Ruef in the latter's office, when he was given to understand that Ruef would take the case to the Board of Supervisors from him and that Ruef would like to see him "punished."

Phillips inferred that Ruef thought a good way to punish the telephone company would be for the Board of Supervisors to vote to take the franchise away from the company.

Phillips testified that there was a working agreement between the eight Supervisors that whatever differences they might have should be settled in the now notorious "Sunday-night caucus," and that differences were settled about the telephone company.

THREATENS TO REMOVE ZIONISTS FROM CHICAGO.

WILBUR S. VOLIVA.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Wilbur S. Voliva seems determined to make good his threat to abandon Zion City and remove with all that faction of the Dowieites who will follow his leadership to some more hospitable clime, probably to Mexico.

Voliva announced in Judge Landis's court, when the Zion City lace factory was ordered sold to satisfy the claims of creditors, that he and the Zionites would leave the Chicago suburb and the United States. Most of the Dowieites will go with Voliva, who has been the only recognized leader of the cult since the death of Dowie, the self-styled "Elijah III."

The industries of Zion City have been declining ever since the colony began quarreling among themselves. When the master hand of Dowie was removed by death from the business interests of the Dowieites, Zion City rapidly degenerated from a wealthy wealth-producing city to a bankrupt, struggling town harassed by creditors and torn by internal disputes. Dowie had planned to colonize a large area of Mexico, and it is believed that Voliva will endeavor to remove his entire following to that country.

Democrats to Make Chicago Conference Center.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago will be used as the political conference center of the Middle West by the national Democratic leadership, has been in Chicago and has conferred with State Chairman Charles Boeschenstein, National Committeeman Roger C. Sullivan and John P. Hopkins. Mr. Stewart is an appointee of Gov. Folk and he is considered a close lieutenant of the Missouri Governor.

This development came to light prominently today, when it was learned that for several days A. C. Stewart, president of the Police Commission of St. Louis, has been in Chicago and has conferred with State Chairman Charles Boeschenstein, National Committeeman Roger C. Sullivan and John P. Hopkins. Mr. Stewart is an appointee of Gov. Folk and he is considered a close lieutenant of the Missouri Governor.

It has further developed that Gov. Folk probably will visit Chicago later and that Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota will be here next week. The Folk and Johnson booms are regarded by the leaders of the Democracy in the West as the two strongest movements towards the Presidency outside of the possible candidacy of William J. Bryan.

It is understood that the preliminary conferences are designed to establish an understanding on a friendly basis between the ambitions of Missouri and Minnesota, and that both will be prepared to give way without hostility, if it comes to pass next year that William J. Bryan is the general favorite of the country and if Mr. Bryan decides to enter the race.

This aspect of the situation is given credence by the fact that Chairman Boeschenstein and Thomas Taggart, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, are looked upon as ardent Bryan men, although close, both personally and politically, to Hopkins and Sullivan.

Woman Who Married Col. William Stokes of Brooklyn, While Her First and Legal Mate Was Alive, in Bad Tangle as Result of Affidavit Filed With County Clerk.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That Mrs. Elizabeth Hitchings Stokes, wife of Col. William A. Stokes, colonel of the Twenty-third Regiment, N.G.N.Y., Brooklyn, must have known that her husband was alive when she married the colonel, was the statement contained in a report filed in the County Clerk's office today.

The testimony was supplied by John M. Hitchings, Mrs. Stokes's first husband, now a hotel keeper at Mount Vernon, Kings county, Washington, to W. J. Bricker, who was appointed to take the deposition when Stokes was dead.

MAYOR HARPER'S PIANO CRIMINAL OF OPERA

His Honor Exchanges Knabe Upright
the Salyer-Baumeister. Chief Executive Gets the First Piano Ever Made Los Angeles.

Fitting tribute has been paid to a local enterprise by the city in taking into his home the first piano ever made in Los Angeles.

Mayor Harper has set his seal on a most worthy enterprise by a sense of civic pride certain it is that a general recognition of our own products would soon begin to tell in the manufacturing interests of the city. But His Honor did another thing when he set his seal on the Salyer-Baumeister as a member of his household.

When the instrument in question was in the big window of PACIFIC MUSIC CO., 622 South Broadway, it attracted admiring glances because of the simplicity and elegance of its construction. The tone is what we are all after. The other features, declared the tone of the Salyer-Baumeister, are superior to that of the Baby Grand of a number of standard makes. While this statement to some may seem rather startling, the fact is that the piano is a masterpiece of the art of piano making at the home or in the concert room with the best results which our new scale possesses. As for the other Uprights, we know famous or how high priced we honestly feel that they are classed.

Great men are proverbially modest and the best we know of Mayor Harper to say about his latest achievement is "Well, it is nine years with Steinway, five years with Weber and two years with Stock, that is the record; and Baumeister, the Master Builder, yet live long enough and do his work grandly enough so that Los Angeles will be honored by his handiwork."

One word more. The regular stock is just as good as the Mayor Harper stock and the limited number coming through the city are just as beautiful in every way.

Remember that we manufacture practically everything, hammers, pin blocks, ornaments, even the plates, sounding boards and felts are made right here.

Of course you can do better at a factory every time, but it takes a factory to make a piano, and no one of them can do that as yet when it comes to the piano to this climate. From factory direct to the parlor you get the bloom and lustre of a high finish, and you avoid the expense of jamming and thrashing a shipped piano from the East must have. But better than all else, in the Salyer-Baumeister you get the finest toned Upright made in these United States. Are you Come and see.

Special designs in fancy woods made to order. See the new Piano, hear it, compare it's tone. You will be other.

brought suit for annulment of their marriage.

In his report, Bricker says Hitchings testified that on March 24, 1915, he married Elizabeth Scott, the present Mrs. Stokes, whom he identified by a photograph, in the old Swedish Church in Philadelphia, the Rev. Dr. Fines performing the ceremony. He said there had been no divorce.

Hitchings said his wife, who declared that she had believed her husband to have died in the Klondike before her second marriage, must have known at the time that he was alive as he had, since the divorce, been in constant communication with his brother, Hector M. Hitchings, of No. 100 William street, Manhattan, and with her son, George H. Hitchings.

THE HOBO PROBLEM.

CITY JUSTICE
EVOLVES PLAN.

SACRAMENTO POLICE JUDGE
GIVES TRAMPS A SURPRISE.

In Absence of Real Rock Pile, Vagrants and Drunks Accustomed to Usual Leaf, Are Compelled to Carry Banish Blocks Back and Forth Across Jail Yard.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] City Justice John C. March believes he has solved the hobo problem. So do a motley array of vagrants and drunks who faced him yesterday and heard the sentence of "twenty-four hours on the rock pile."

A laugh went up from the dock when Justice March pronounced sentence, but when the offenders were led to the jail yard and there found a real rock pile they laughed from the other side of their mouths. Tired of the "rock pile" after time the same old hobo, and unable to send offenders to an official rock pile, Justice March has evolved a scheme which sends the offenders to the hobo element out of the city, but to make the inventor famous.

For without accomplishment is Justice March's plan. For three hours yesterday those upon whom the extraordinary sentence had been pronounced carried twenty-five-pound the sympathetic action of every union whose members are in any way, directly or indirectly, employed by the telegraph companies, will be asked.

As a result of the strike order a few operators working leased wires quit today. The force of the Chicago and Milwaukee Telegraph Company, a brokerage service company employ-

This company operates for public business between the Chicago Board of Trade and Milwaukee Grain Exchange.
Five men working wires for Hubbell, Warren & Chandler, also left their keys.

At the stock yards, the Nelson Morris Company and the Schwarzschild & Gulzberger Company signed the new agreement, and the operators at Swift & Co., and other packing concerns remain at work, with the understanding that contracts would be signed tomorrow.

STRIKE CAUSES LOSS TO FRUIT INTERESTS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)
STOCKTON, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Local produce men and fruit shippers are suffering great loss by the telegraphers' strike.

It has been impossible to keep posted on the markets or to route fruit or produce, with the result that shipments have decreased to a small amount compared with the amount sent out daily previous to the tie-up.

Orchardists and produce growers will also lose money, as the commission men cannot afford to take chances of cars going astray or being in a position where they cannot divert a car to some point to take advantage of the markets. With the Tokyo crop ready to ship next week, the packers and vine-yardists are greatly worried. Unless some change for the better is made hundreds of thousands of dollars will be lost to residents of San Joaquin county.

At present most of the Black Prince grapes are being handled by express, but the shipments will soon become too great for that method and it will be necessary to handle the crop in carload lots instead of box consignments.

SAN DIEGO UNION MEN CONTINUE AT WORK.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SAN DIEGO, Aug. 16.—Orders by way of Associated Press are not taken by the two or three union operators here.

There is one in the Western Union office, one in the Postal office and one at the Coronado branch office. All are working today, regardless of orders from Small at Chicago, and one of them stated that he was not going to quit until he received something official by wire or by letter.

"GENERAL ORDER" HAS LITTLE EFFECT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Despite the issued of the general strike order by President Small last night, the situation in this city was not materially changed today. All of the men who were disposed to strike were already out. It was believed by the officials of the union that the order would paraly-

SITUATION IMPROVES IN SAN FRANCISCO.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Both the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies report that the business is being handled today than on any other day since the strike began.

A. W. Capps, deputy grand president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, has called out all the operators in his district not under contract. The order was issued this morning, and it went into immediate effect.

The operators include those employed in brokers' offices. There are thirty offices in the district and fifty-four operators walked out.

ASSOCIATED PRESS INCREASES ITS REPORT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 16.—The strike situation here remains practically unchanged. Both companies state they are handling messages offered in fairly good shape.

The strikers are equally confident in their statements that this is an impossibility and claim they are confident of ultimate success.

The Associated Press is steadily getting into better shape. Condensed reports are being furnished to all the leased-wire papers in Oregon and Washington and the Portland agency is sending out reports containing the usual quota of words to all of the smaller papers, with two exceptions.

COMPLETELY BROKEN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
TACOMA, Aug. 16.—The strike here is practically broken. According to the managers of the telegraph companies, the companies are only one man short of their force before the strike.

GENERAL STRIKE CALL HAS FEW RESPONSES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Interest in the telegraph strike centered today in the probable effect of the general strike order issued by President Small of the national union, and which called upon operators employed by the commercial telegraph companies and those working private and leased wires not under union contracts to go out.

Throughout the East there were few if any responses to the call. This was explained on the ground that all operators who would strike had already quit work, and here the strike order was given importance only as giving official sanction of the action already taken by the strikers without the previous approval or consent of the national official.

Both the Western Union and the Postal companies claimed not to have been affected by President Small's call and to be working their wires better today than any day since the strike was declared. Business, it was said, was again moving smoothly.

The Associated Press was not affected adversely. But in the Associated several of the men who had left the strike order had been promulgated.

PRIVATE WIRE MEN QUIT IN ST. LOUIS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 16.—About eighty-five operators working on private wires in brokerage offices were called out this afternoon by President A. L. Ewing of the local union of Commercial Telegraphers. As soon as the operators were notified they closed their wires and quit.

WEAPON AGAINST STRIKERS HAS MACHINE TO MAN WIRES.

INVENTOR WILL OFFER APPLI-ANCE TO COMPANIES.
W. H. Valentine, who exhibited instrument in Los Angeles, sends Representative to Urga Adoption of System—Sends, Receives and Prints Messages Automatically.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
CARSON (Nev.) Aug. 16.—W. H.
Valentine, the inventor of a machine to send telegraph messages without the use of an expert operator, left the city this evening. He came down from Lake Tahoe several days ago, and there he met a man named Foss at the Arlington House, who came here from Chicago.

The two were closeted together several days, and it is known that Foss, when he left here, had authority to deal with one of the big telegraph companies for the exclusive rights of the machine.

There was no exhibition of the machine here, but it is known that Valentine represents the same machine which was exhibited in Los Angeles a few weeks ago.

It sends messages actuated by a typewriter, and receives them by printing them automatically on a sheet of paper, so that the message looks like ordinary typewriting. No operator is required at the receiving end and the message sent is duplicated in the sending machine.

Mr. Valentine admitted that the company was about to establish stations in Nevada, as the service could be made with or without wires. He declined to discuss the rumored deal with the telegraph company, but it is understood here that negotiations have been going on with the telegraph people to put the machine in operation for the company and thus do away entirely with skilled labor, that future strikes may be avoided.

TRAGEDY IN PRISON. CONVICT ADDS TO HIS CRIMES.

LIFER AT SAN QUENTIN SAWS WAY OUT OF CELL.

He Escapes to Dining-room, Where He Fatally Stabs Trusty and Makes Desperate Fight Against Recapture.
Prisoner Long Considered Incorrigible.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Jako
Oppenheimer, a convict at San Quentin, Wednesday night, saved through thirteen steel bars in his cell, escaped to the prison dining-room, fatally stabbed a trusty and was only recaptured after a furious fight.

Oppenheimer had been in solitary confinement in an incorrigible cell and he was allowed no communication with any one. Nevertheless Oppenheimer is considered such a dangerous man that two guards were placed at the entrance of his cell and detailed to report upon his every action. How he procured a saw capable of cutting through the heavy steel bars is a mystery.

Oppenheimer was first sent to Folsom under a life sentence for murder. He had not been there long before he quarrelled with a fellow-convict, and slew him. He was such a firebrand among the prisoners that he was transferred to San Quentin. Here, in a despair attempt to escape, he stabbed one guard almost to death and wounded Guard Sam Yoko, who finally succeeded in knocking him senseless with a heavy cane. Though he has been in solitary confinement ever since, he managed to stab a guard not many months ago.

VALKYRIE WINS
FINAL CONTEST.Leads Monsoon and Arrow in Arbitrary Handicap.Error at Finish Almost Loses
Squires the Race.Regatta Successful and Stirs
General Interest.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Doubtless the Valkyrie, sailed by Herb Pease, the "Derby" skipper, won the arbitrary handicap event over a twelve-mile "L" course that concluded this afternoon, the annual regatta of the South Coast Yacht Club, in the Santa Barbara Channel.

Columbine, the hard loser of yesterday, was second, and almost first by an error of Skipper Pease; while the Arrow took third honors. The remainder of the finishes were a sort of a procession of two in which the Valkyrie showed the sloop Monsoon the way in and Mischief I, the victor of yesterday's sensational race, crossed the line last of the big ones, leaving the cats, Serena, Del Mar and Volga, to finish. Enchantress, which started well, made a good race with a gasoline breeze and did not have the nerve to cross the finish line.

Following are the official figures, showing the results of the race:
Yacht and owner. Start. Finish.
Valkyrie (Pease) 1:10 4:29.36
Columbine (Pease) 1:10 4:30.12
Arrow (Pease) 1:10 4:31.00
Monsoon (Pease) 1:10 4:32.00
Mischief I (Whitney) 1:10 4:33.00
Mischief II (Whitney) 1:10 4:34.00

It was a cracking good race in a twelve-knot breeze that came from west, southwest and freshening before the larger yachts got over the start line, hauled around due west, then down the coast, and finally, in good shape and footed it on the reach in the first leg of three miles, west, south, west, one quarter west. Then there was a three-mile beat dead to windward, where the turn was directly into the count back to the start line and another long reach home.

Enchantress was tardy and lost six minutes in getting over the line. Valkyrie sacrificed one minute by a little previousness, while Arrow shaved the stake thirty seconds after the gun. Minerva lost fifty seconds, but Monsoon was right on the dot. Columbine lost some twenty seconds, and Mischief I, alas for Mischief, a little misunderstanding is a dangerous thing in a yacht race. Skipper Whitney mistook the Columbine gun for her own, regardless of the fact that she was the scratch boat, and she sailed away from the starting line had crossed six seconds before her own gun and was forced back. She lost nearly two minutes, which a slight tug would have saved.

By this time the cats were hulled down and one had made the first mark. Mischief I, in an attempt to shoulder a ballast on the reach, was carried to leeward, while Columbine, profiting by her mistake, sailed on a contested and herself with a small reaching job. Mischief carried a single reefed mainsail. Minerva sent up a jigger stay-sail, but doffed it soon afterwards. The run to the first mark was a procession and there was not much doing in the incident. Columbine, however, sought for the water, and with a little more speed, she would have won. The cats, then the yaws, followed by Valkyrie, then the sloop, rounded the first mark. The second mark, named Valkyrie, took the port tack for shoreward while the yaws had the starboard tack, hauling fast, the diverging wings forming two sides of an obtuse angle.

CATS LEAD THE RACE.
The cats led the yaws, all but Minerva, which sought the inshore route. Serena, Del Mar had all the chance in the world to make a brilliant showing. She fell a bit short of the windward stake and looked as though anchored in stays while coming about. Making a short tack, she went ahead the buoy, but by this time Valkyrie had skinned the stake and squared for her leeward run. It took her some time to break out her boom, and when she did, it made her leap beautifully. She had passed the windward mark at 3:12.

It was anguishing to watch the maneuvers of Serena of Del Mar. Held in stays by the erratic handling of her crew, she first filled away, then came up, and back and forth. She just balked at that turn and would not get on her course, all the time running to leeward, leaving room for the pooky Enchantress to pass her and get around. It would be a shame to describe what happened to Serena all this time, but she finally rounded the windward mark and hit the course for her home lap, under mainsail and spinnaker.

Arrow, making splendid time, hipped past the stake at 3:23.25, skimming Minerva by one minute. Columbine turned at 3:23. Monsoon at 3:26, the cat Volga at 3:28. Mischief I, sailing at the same moment. All but the Monsoon were tardy with spinnaker, and Mischief I, sailing particularly late. She also kept an annoying luff in her balloon for nearly the first mile of the leeward run.

But Monsoon's actions were superb. With spinnaker in stays and boom outboard, she dashed around the stake, close in and as her mainsail gibbed, bang went her spinnaker on the starboard side and she was off. But Columbine showed her the way to the leeward, with Valkyrie leading the whole procession by a mile.

The reach-in from the leeward mark was uneventful. Valkyrie plotting the crowd, Columbine sat sternly, and Monsoon and Mischief doing their best to climb up. Arrow was sailing well far to windward of Mischief, but there was never any doubt that having the identical Valkyrie, Columbine and Arrow would take the honors in the order named.

and possibly Enchantress will take in the Santa Cruz Island before going South.
Mischief I, came near going to Davy Jones' locker this morning. A screw shackle on her anchor mooring, not loose and the yacht went adrift, bumping into the commercial wharf. She was rescued by a launch and towed back to other moorings. She was not damaged, losing only some paint.

The whirl of big doings came to an end tonight, with the dance at the Foster Hotel, when the salty gaiters of Santa Barbara's daughters. The social function ended what has been a very successful and thoroughly sportsmanlike regatta, and the members of the visiting club are proud of the results.

NOTES OF REGATTA.
FRITZ WHITNEY'S BON MOT.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just why and how Mischief I happened to cross the finish line first, in yesterday's big race, was the sole topic of discussion among the yachtsmen and their friends at the Foster Hotel, last night. Fritz Whitney's magnificent win was hailed with delight, the more so because of the accomplishment on the very last leg of the course and against Columbine's tremendous prestige of the previous day. The victory over the sloop, which both in the ocean race up the coast and in the evening and both Joe Pugh and Mischief I, "got their" in the shape of Joe laid it all to losing Don Leach, one of his picked crew, who fell overboard after the last windward turn.

"You see," explained Joe, with a sober smile, "we were obliged to luff and lay to in order to pick up our man and that lost us the race."

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A. R. Daniels and John Scripps, winners of the Los Angeles Derby Automobile Challenge Cup, in the order given, are expecting a challenge from Los Angeles automobilists for the cup, the race to take place at Lakeside.

Los Angeles automobile men have made considerable comment on the proposition, but have made no formal move for a retrial for the prize, which is now held by Scripps. The rules governing the race for the trophy cup provide that whenever contestants get together and decide on a date that a contest shall be held.

John R. Gay, owner of the Lakeside Speedway, is looking for a challenge.

A recent visit to the Rhenish wine region developed the fact that wines which are favorites with the American market are often falsely labeled by exporters. It was specifically stated on the best authority that there is much more of the so-called Niersteiner exported to the United States than is produced at Niersteiner. One authority said: "Almost no genuine Niersteiner goes to the United States," adding that the exporters "trust to American lack of experience with wines to escape detection."

Head of British Delegation to Peace Conference Will Announce New Proposition.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

THE HAGUE, Aug. 10.—Edward P. Fry, head of the British delegation, has communicated the text of the speech which he is to deliver tomorrow before the peace conference on the question of the advisability of the limitation of armaments to Baron Marshall von Bieberstein, head of the German delegation, in order to avoid a misunderstanding on the subject.

Sir Edward will announce that Great Britain is ready to communicate yearly her programme for the construction of warships and the expenses involved to all the powers agreeing to form a Great Britain with similar information. This exchange of news Sir Edward thinks, will facilitate a further exchange of views regarding the limitations of armaments.

It is now regarded as assured that the conference will end between September 10 and 15.

TO BE MADE VICAR GENERAL.

ROME, Aug. 10.—It is reported that the Papal Secretary of State, Cardinal Merry del Val, whose health is failing, will be appointed vicar general of the Pope.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Nurse Drugged.

Mrs. Edith Mann, a nurse living at No. 113 Trinity street, was overcome by a sudden illness last night, and was sent to the Receiving Hospital. The police surgeons say that she may have been drugged.

Steak Causes Agony.

Five minutes after Oscar Bloom of No. 114 East Twentieth street, had eaten a hamburger steak at a North Main-street restaurant, last night, he was taken violently ill and was taken to the Receiving Hospital. For three hours Bloom was in agony.

Finds His Father.

Through the efforts of Police Surgeon Goodrich and the police, Ralph Prall, 9 years old, was enabled to find his father, John Prall, of No. 1194 East First street, last night. The lad arrived at the Arcade station yesterday afternoon from Santa Paula, but had lost his father's address.

Domestic Story.

J. C. Henderson is detained in the City Jail on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. A policeman states that he found Henderson threatening a man named Johnson with a black-jack. Johnson said that he found Henderson with his wife in Central Park and that when he protested, Henderson threatened to strike him.

Run Down by Engine.

Manuel Contreras, an employee of the California Fruit Growers' Association, was run down by a switch engine in the Santa Fe yards yesterday morning and seriously injured. Contreras was late for work and attempted to cross the tracks in front of an engine being shunted onto a side track. His left foot was so badly crushed that amputation was necessary.

Reception to Founder.

A reception will be tendered Mrs. E. M. Whittemore, founder of the Door of Hope Society, on Tuesday afternoon next from 2 to 5 o'clock. The society is holding a general invitation to the public, which a general invitation is extended. A number of articles made by the inmates of the home will be offered for sale. Mrs. Whittemore will start East on Saturday.

Ohio Banker Comes Here.

J. C. F. Hull, a prominent banker of Ohio, will soon become associated with the American National Bank of this city. Prior to taking up his new duties, Mr. Hull will make a careful study of the country of the Southwest, with the view to thoroughly familiarizing himself with existing conditions. He brings with him extensive experience in the banking business and business associates of Cleveland.

Stuart's Funeral Today.

Harry Stuart, a well-known sporting man, who committed suicide Wednesday night, will be buried this afternoon. The funeral services will be held from the Pierce undertaking parlors and interment to be in Evergreen Cemetery. Mrs. Stuart arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and the arrangements for the funeral are being carried on under the supervision of the undertakers. In an inquest over the remains, returned a verdict of suicide.

Child for Adoption.

The officials of the Associated Charities are looking for a good home for a 2-year-old orphan boy. Both of the child's parents are dead and it is hoped that a family may be found which will be willing to adopt the little fellow. A good home is offered to a girl child between the ages of 2 and 7 years. The officials of the society announce that they can place a child conforming to those requirements. The office of the Associated Charities is in room No. 2, Courthouse; phones, Main 437 and AT 701.

BREVITIES.

CHINA GLOOMY OVER PROSPECT.

UNSETTLED POLITICS CAUSES DISMAL PREDICTIONS.

Critical State of Health of Empress Dowager Gives Historical Animosity of Manchus and Mandarins Room for Play and Condition of Chaos is Ensuing.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

TOKIO, Aug. 16.—Private dispatches from Peking forecast a gloomy future owing to the unsettled state of politics there, caused by the absence of a ruling mind powerful enough to cope with the situation.

The Empress Dowager, who heretofore has been sole mistress of affairs, is now in a critical state of health. Her policy so far has been to play one minister against another in order to prevent the concentration of power in any single hand.

In as much as the Empress is incapacitated by an incurable disease, and as the historical animosity of the Manchus and Mandarins is increasing, the prevailing state of affairs of the Peking government constitutes a baffling problem.

Whatever compromise may be effected between the progressive Yuan Shi Kai and the conservative Chang Ti Tung, there appears little hope of realizing the complete stability of Peking authority so imperatively necessary to the integrity of the empire and the peace of the Far East in general.

While a fresh guarantor of peace has appeared in the form of the Russo-Japanese entente, peace will be constantly subject to disturbance until some decided measures are taken to reestablish order in Peking politics. This, however, is deemed impossible of accomplishment so long as a Manchu and a Mandarin survive.

HATE TO LOSE TAX.

Business interests in China are opposing a crusade against opium traffic.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—An unexpected result of the anti-opium crusade in China has been the friction engendered between the Chinese authorities and the humanitarian who have been working with them to stamp out the hateful practice of opium smoking, on the one hand, and the residents and business interests in the wealthy foreign concessions of the open ports of China on the other.

A considerable amount of money is realized from the tax on the opium traffic and applied to the maintenance of the settlements. In Shanghai, by treaty the receipts from the opium tax are set apart for the use of the Shanghai conservancy, the board charged with maintenance of the channel in the River Huangpu.

The foreign element is indisposed to surrender this source of revenue until another is provided, and it is held that this can be accomplished only by another treaty. Meanwhile, the anti-opium crusade is loud in their demands that the opium shops in the foreign quarter shall be closed, as were those in the Chinese part of the city.

FORTUNE AWAITS HIM.

Boy Who Ran Away from Nebraska Home Thirty Years Ago Is Located in Tennessee.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES) OMAHA (Neb.) Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The long-lost John Wilson, Jr., for whom a fortune of $50,000 is being held at Tecumseh, Neb., has been found in Levittown, Tenn., where he lives on a farm.

John Fox, a well-known business man of Knoxville, Tenn., called on the Probate Judge at Tecumseh today and informed him that Wilson lived in Levittown, but that he had not learned of the recent death of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Sr., of Tecumseh, nor was he aware that a fortune had been left him.

Wilson ran away from home at Tecumseh thirty years ago, and his parents never heard from him afterward. They made a long search for him, and finally went to Alaska for that purpose.

More than 30 years of age, broken in health and depressed in spirit, he returned from Alaska two years ago and died a few months later, leaving $50,000 in cash June 7, 1914.

TRUSTED OFFICIAL ARRESTED.

Man Employed for Forty-three Years in Boston Subtreasury Charged With Theft of $3000.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) BOSTON (Mass.) Aug. 16.—J. Warren Hastings, since 1893 a trusted official at the United States subtreasury, in this city, was arrested today on the charge of embezzling from the government $3,000 in cash June 7, 1914.

The money was taken from a package containing $105,000 in bills prepared for shipment to Washington to be retired from circulation. The shortage was made good by another clerk technically responsible, but who, at no time, was under suspicion.

Hastings is 65 years old and unmarried. His record for forty-three years' service was practically flawless.

OFFICER IN HOT WATER.

Captain of Marine Corps to Be Tried by Court-Martial on Charge of Neglect of Duty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The Acting Secretary of the Navy has appointed a general court-martial in New York for the trial of Capt. Herbert Hirschinger of the Marine Corps on the charge of neglect of duty.

It is alleged that this officer instructed the key of a storehouse containing clothing, etc., to subordinate, as the result of which a shortage occurred in the stores.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Dead Animal Contractor Hanson has appealed to the Council and the Board of Public Works to release him from his contract to remove and destroy animal carcasses; he says it is impossible to secure a location for his fertilizing plant.

Property owners on Los Angeles street have retained attorneys to contest in court what they term an unjust and outrageous sewer assessment.

Lizette Dorrell, whose action for divorce against Theron Dorrell came to trial yesterday in the Superior Court, failed to get a decree, though it was not denied. Judge Bordwell dismissed the case, to avoid prejudicing an action on other grounds.

"Kid" Solomon was directed to pay temporary alimony to his wife, Ora Solomon, who has brought an action for divorce against him.

Nellie Alrd, charged with having beaten her mother, was given a suspended sentence of thirty days in the Police Court yesterday.

The complaint against Motorman Smith, who was accused of having interfered with the progress of the police ambulance, was dismissed, yesterday, because it was impossible to prove criminal intention.

AT THE CITY HALL.

ASKS RELEASE FROM CONTRACT.

COMPANY CANNOT FIND SITE FOR INCINERATOR.

Appeals to City to Take Charge of Collection of Dead Animals and to Cremate Them at Municipal Plant. Health Officer Asks Warrant Against Animal Contractor.

The Council would like to find some nice, benevolent gentleman to relieve it of a noxious dead-animal contract. Following honorable precedent the City Council has been seeking contracts to fertilize companies and paying them a bonus for removing and destroying the carcasses of animals.

The present contract has changed hands three times and has yet two years to run. The health officer has asked the City to take over the contract, the contractor, charging it with maintaining a nuisance. The nuisance consists in the fulsome odors that hang over the river bottoms in the Sixth and Ninth wards. Animal carcasses are dismembered and rendered at the company's plant on Edwin street near the south city limits. Manager Hanson of the fertilizer company has notified the health officer and the City Attorney that if he is arrested for destroying the carcasses of animals he will stop collecting and destroying them. If the city holds Hanson in violation of an ordinance he will stop his protest.

Inspectors of the health department have secured whole hoards of evidence against Hanson for maintaining a nuisance, but the City Attorney hesitates to issue the complaint for the reason that the city would be without provision for the removal of the carcasses of animals.

Attorney Dockweiler, representing the fertilizer company, has offered to surrender the contract to the city. But the Board of Public Works doesn't want the city to accept it. This would mean that the animals must be sent to the incinerator, and the board says that it is not feasible to cremate the animals there along with the garbage. There is good money in the dead-animal contract if a place can be secured for rendering the carcasses. A city ordinance prohibits the establishment of such a plant anywhere inside the city limits and the county authorities will not permit one to be located outside. Manager Hanson makes the plea that it is impossible for him to find a place where the operation of the factory will not be opposed by his neighbors.

In accepting the dead-animal contract from Rohrer & Tainter Hanson assumed the obligations of a $1000 bond binding him to carry out its provisions. He says that if the police arrest him for rendering the dead horses he will stop collecting and rendering instantly; he says that he cannot be held on his bond as he can show in court that it is impossible to secure a site where the animal carcasses can be destroyed.

A year ago a company offered to pay to the city a bonus for the privilege of removing dead animals for the carcasses. This company has since been forced out of business by the protests of people living near its plant.

WILL RESIST ASSESSMENT.

ONLY ONE SEWER NEEDED.

Property owners living on Eleventh and Los Angeles streets have employed attorneys to carry into court their protests against what they term an unjust and outrageous sewer assessment. Their complaint is over a sewer extending from Eleventh to Los Angeles street and from Los Angeles street to Maple avenue on Eleventh street.

Several years ago a Vrooman Act sewer was built on Los Angeles street. This was sufficient to carry away the sewage until the laundries came. Three laundries have since been built on Eleventh street. Each has secured a permit from the Council to connect with the sewer and the combined output of the three has filled the main until sewage has run into basements of houses along the street.

Now the property owners are asked to pay $248 to provide a new sewer to relieve the congestion. When the first notice was posted and published that the sewer was to be laid on Los Angeles and Eleventh streets the property owners did not protest, they thought the laundry companies would pay for the sewer. The property owners had paid for one sewer and they thought they could not be forced to pay for another.

Two weeks ago they discovered that the Board of Public Works had approved an assessment in which at least one laundry company does not pay as much as the others. In the new assessment there are only three "y's" in the new sewer, say the property owners, and these are in front of the laundries no other property owners have made any effort to connect with the new sewer.

The owner of the lot at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Los Angeles streets is assessed for sewer service in front of his property. He can have no use for more than one. The other two are laid for the purpose of carrying away the water from the laundries. The property owners say that they will resist payment of the assessments in court as they do not believe that they can be compelled to pay for sewers from which they derive no benefit.

When this sewer assessment is mentioned at the City Hall officials and employees promptly engage in the ancient and edifying game of "passing the buck." Councilmen say that the assessment came to them from the Board of Public Works and they approved it as presented. Assessment Clerk Palomares says the district was prepared in the engineer's office and he followed precedent in fixing the amount each property owner must pay. Then all came in together and the property owners did not protest until the time allowed them by law had expired, and that they have no business to be raising a fuss about it now.

Secretary Ferris of the Board of Public Works says that the laundry owners had wanted to pay for sewer service for the new sewer and that the board had to be very firm with them before they would consent to be taxed. Apparently the trouble started when the Council granted the laundry companies permits to connect with the branch sewer on Los Angeles street in place of requiring them to build private sewer to a main lateral. This was one of the lapses of a former Council.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

ODD ENDING OF DIVORCE SUIT.

COURT NEITHER GRANTS NOR DENIES PETITION.

Woman Entitled to Decree by Evidence, But This Does Not Agree With Grounds Named in Complaint. Case May Appear Again—Alleged Gay Life of Barber.

Lizette Dorrell, by her testimony yesterday in an action for divorce against Theron Dorrell, satisfied Judge Bordwell that she was entitled to a decree, but the decree was not granted. Neither was it denied, for that, said the judge, would injure her chance of getting a decree when her case should be properly presented. The judge advised her counsel to move for a dismissal of the case, and this was done.

Mrs. Dorrell alleged in her complaint, and nothing else. Her testimony, while being examined by her attorney, was simply to the effect that she had married Theron Dorrell in Colorado Springs, on January 12, 1932, that he had deserted her in San Francisco on June 18, 1932; that she had not heard from him since and that she had supported herself by working as a clerk in a San Francisco store until the earthquake, when she came to Los Angeles. She is now employed in a cafeteria.

"That's all," said her counsel. But it wasn't.

"Wait a minute," directed Judge Bordwell.

In response to the many questions asked by the judge, the plaintiff said: "I was working in a laundry in Colorado Springs when I met him. He was a barber there. I knew him about two years before we were married. His habits were good, and he treated me well while we remained in Colorado Springs."

"We went to Clarence, Mo., in April, 1934, and stayed with his mother there for six months. He began staying out nights. What was he doing? It is hard to tell. He was doing pretty much as he pleased. I suppose he was drinking. He went about with a young woman there, and took her to the St. Louis Fair. When he got back I told him I would not be without provision for the removal of the carcasses of animals. He said he would not be without provision for the removal of the carcasses of animals."

"We went to San Francisco, and he bought a half-interest in a barber shop. He treated me well for about three months, in San Francisco, and then he began running around. He stayed out till late at night, and some nights he did not come home at all. He used to tell me he had been gambling, or was going around with some members of the Olympia Club."

"He had told me of a girl he had met, and I found out he was staying with her. His partner in the barber shop, who was related to him by marriage, knew of it, too, and told me. He told me he had been gambling, and he answered that if I didn't like it he would leave. I told him I'd rather he leave than go on the way he was going, and he went."

"Next day he sent an express wagon for his things. I did not take the trouble to find out where they were taken. Judge Bordwell considered for two or three minutes before he spoke. At last he said:

"I don't think I can grant a divorce where the evidence shows a cause of action distinct from that alleged in the complaint. That is, the plaintiff has a volume of the Civil Code."

"Separation by consent is not desertion," he read.

Counsel for the plaintiff seemed surprised, but saw the point.

"This woman," continued the judge, "is clearly entitled to divorce under the law and the evidence, but the record of the case is in bad shape. I do not like to give a decree. If you apply for a dismissal of the case I will consent."

"You will have no difficulty in securing corroborative evidence of the facts you have stated," he went on, "and the plaintiff, and she answered that she could secure the evidence."

HARD LUCK CONTINUES.

"KID" SOLOMON IN COURT.

Benjamin J. Solomon, a suit for divorce is pending, was in the Superior Court yesterday to answer to his wife's petition for temporary alimony.

He called the suit the "hard luck" which began with his fight with Abe Attell, and of his efforts during the past three years to finish the matter, a house and lot on Boyle Heights, to provide a home for his wife and babies.

"My health was ruined by my training down to the weights I had to make in several fights. In the last one, with Attell, I had to get down to 125 pounds, when my natural weight is 135. Now I am under a doctor's care, and I've had to quit the ring to hold my job in the street-cleaning department."

Asked by Attorney Appel how much he had made by his ring fighting, and why he had stayed at it if it was breaking his health, the little ex-fighter answered that $2000 is all he has made in the three years and that without the money from the city came to about $500 a year more.

"I wanted to get the home paid for," he explained.

Mrs. Ora Solomon testified that she had only 5 cents when she left her husband and went to her mother's home, on August 2, and that she has received no money from her husband since then.

Judge Bordwell made an order for $40 attorney fees and $7.50 a week alimony, pending the trial of the action for divorce.

In her complaint, Mrs. Solomon charges cruelty, stating that her husband has struck and kicked her. The charges are denied.

fire to a house in San Pedro, for the purpose of collecting insurance on the furniture, was found guilty by a jury in the Superior Court yesterday.

The case was given to the jury shortly after 11 o'clock, and the verdict was not agreed upon till nearly 4 o'clock.

The defense claimed that gasoline, which had leaked from a can, had become ignited accidentally. Several witnesses for the prosecution testified that the odor from the burning house was of kerosene, and not of gasoline. Woodward will receive his sentence Monday.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

GIRL FIGHTS FOR HEART'S RIGHTS.

WHIPS MOTHER WHO CONSIDERS CLERK INELIGIBLE.

Arraigned in Police Court and Given Suspended Sentence—Avoins Intention to Marry and Justice Hopes Right Man Will Come Along Soon—Motorman Is Free.

Accused of having turned the tables on her mother and of having administered a beating instead of having accepted chastisement, Nellie Alrd, 13 years of age, was yesterday given a suspended sentence of thirty days upon her promise to be good.

The girl is a bright and attractive and has many admirers. It was because of her preference for a clerk in one of the small hotels of the city, that trouble arose between the girl and her mother.

Yesterday Nellie testified before Justice Summerfield in the Police Court, that her mother had forbidden her to talk to the clerk. She told her mother that she was old enough to care for herself and that she loved the young man.

Mrs. Alrd is said to have attempted to spank her 13-year-old daughter, but the daughter resisted and bruised her mother's eye. Mrs. Alrd appealed to the police, and Nellie was arrested at Long Beach.

Justice Summerfield remarked that, for peace of mind, he hoped the right boy would come along soon.

Motorman Released.

Prosecuting Attorney Eddie, yesterday dismissed a complaint brought against Motorman H. L. Smith, in which he was charged with having interfered with the progress of the police ambulance.

"On August 3, Dr. D. W. Day had been stricken with heart failure at the station. The patrol was carrying him to the Receiving Hospital and every minute was precious. At First and Spring street the horses were going at a rapid gait and the bell on the ambulance was clanging loudly, but Motorman Smith, it was claimed, deliberately ran his car across First street in the path of the wagon."

"The complaint was dismissed on the ground that it was impossible to prove criminal intention on the part of the motorman."

JUST TOLD THE TRUTH.

Santa Monica Officer, Who Had Not Been Prompted, Spells a Case for the Prosecution.

Fred Calkins, a police officer in Santa Monica, created a small sensation yesterday in the criminal department of the Superior Court by his frank answer to a question put to officers who have gained admissions from prisoners.

"The question, rattled off by Deputy District Attorney Donnell in the personal manner which is usual in the case of questions which have become formulas, was:

"Did you hold out any hope of reward, or make any promises of immunity from punishment, to induce this defendant to make any statement?"

Many thousand times, in the criminal department of the Superior Court, the question has been asked, and as many times it has been answered in the negative.

Frederick Calkins of Santa Monica said "Yes."

"What's that?" ejaculated Maj. Donnell.

"I asked you if you had the least bit of hope, or any promise of reward to make a statement."

"Yes, sir," responded the witness, gazing about in apparent surprise at the astonishment his unheard-of answer had created.

"The fool!" gasped a couple of officers seated in the courtroom.

"That's what he said," ordered Judge Smith.

"But, Your Honor," protested Maj. Donnell, "he understood the question."

"Yes, sir," reiterated the witness. "I told him he had better tell me all it, and he'd get a lighter sentence."

TO FILL VACANCIES.

Examinations Will Soon Be Held to Secure Eligibles for Desirable Federal Appointments.

On September 4 the United States Civil Service Commission will hold examinations to secure eligibles for the position of die and tool maker in the mail lock repair shop of the Post-office Department and to fill other vacancies in any branch of the service requiring the same qualifications.

The local secretary of the United States Civil Service Commission, room No. 25, postoffice, will provide all prospective applicants with the necessary blanks and with any information desired.

WON JAKE NOM, influential Chinese who has come here from the North to attempt to settle the trouble between fighting tong.

PEACE DOVE HOVERS.

"BIG SIX" SENDS AN ULTIMATUM.

MAYOR AND OTHERS TO CONFER WITH MAD CHINESE.

Tong Differences May Be Settled for Business Reasons—San Francisco Merchants Will Force Local Factions to Buy Hatchets—Representative of Six Companies Here.

To establish peace in Chinatown the powerful merchants of that district, Chief Kern, Mayor Harper and other representatives of the city will hold a private meeting tonight in the Chinese Chamber of Commerce building.

At that meeting, Won Jake Nom, representative of the Six Companies of San Francisco, will deliver their ultimatum. He arrived in Los Angeles Thursday. He is a merchant of Stockton, and a Federal interpreter. He takes sides with neither of the contending factions, but it is said that he is able to adjust existing differences among his countrymen.

It is believed by the police that a desire for peace from the Six Companies would put an end to the hostilities. Ordinarily the Chinese will arbitrate, but efforts in this direction have proved unavailing.

Both sides demanded too much. The police have been unable to secure a declaration of peace although a score of well-known Chinamen have been arrested recently.

Even the closing of the gambling dens failed to bring the Chinamen to terms.

Now the Six Companies are interested and have selected Won to represent them here. The very life of the local Chinatown depends upon the support of these companies, and their commands will be obeyed.

"The company was many differences to be adjusted in this trouble," said Won, yesterday. "It seems that a Chinese girl belonging to the Hop Sing was asked to dance at a banquet and the tong refused to allow her to dance, and her house was boycotted. That part of the trouble is an old story. It is only resorted to by low people."

"The more serious disagreement lies in this country, where the Hop Sing, who is said to be one of their leading officers, is accused by his fellow-countrymen of having sold them out to the government inspectors."

"Now that is a thing which no tong will stand for. It is alleged that this man has sold out to the government, and that he has no right to be in the country, he informed on them."

"An act of that kind among the Chinese is considered as dishonorable as poisoning the streams during a war. It is only resorted to by low people. That is the reason that such unusual ill feeling has been caused in this fight. The quarrel over the girl could have been easily adjusted as could the ordinary differences between tong men, but this business of informing is a hard matter to settle. A Chinaman, if he betrays his country, is a traitor. His certificate is carefully protected by every other Chinaman so long as he behaves himself."

"The hope to reach an adjustment of the trouble. We will not hurry them. We will offer our agreements to both factions in this tong fight. If they want to settle, let them. We will grant them time to think the thing over. What we want to do is arbitrate. We want the trouble here to be settled just as quickly as possible and we hope then that the Chinese quarters will settle down to the business of making money and enjoying life."

The probation officers are threatening additional excitement in Chinatown. Some days ago a Chinese boy, 15 years of age, was sent to Whittier at the request of his mother. The woman alleges that boys of tender age are sworn into the hushhinders' division of the tongs. This accusation is made against a powerful fighting tong and against another of the tongs not in the present trouble. The woman alleges that the boys are taken in with the idea that they can shoot just as straight as their elders and are less liable to be suspected of crime. If they are caught they are not sent to the penitentiary but to the reform school.

LOOK OUT FOR "RAINY DAY."

Those Who Are Prepared Have Bank Accounts—Now Is the Time to Get Free Checks.

Special arrangements have been made by The Times to distribute pocket savings banks and free checks today with dispatch. The distribution will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and end at 10 o'clock tonight. The supply of banks and checks will be sufficient to meet all demands.

There have been given away during the week 18,000 banks and $9000 in checks. By tonight 20,000 people will have been started on a systematic plan of saving.

Thousands of people have expressed their appreciation of The Times' plan to encourage thrift.

To induce people to think hard is half the battle. The arguments presented by The Times have resulted in inculcating habits of economy in the minds of many more persons than have applied for banks. Now is a good time to start a bank account. The "rainy day" always comes unexpectedly.

Extraordinary Clean Up Bargains For Saturday Morning

For a short day's selling—all short lines at still shorter prices. All the odd lots and broken stocks resultant from this week's great Clean Up Sale will be closed out Saturday morning at, in most instances, considerably less than half usual prices. In a number of cases quantities are too small to advertise, so do not attempt to judge the full extent of the opportunity by this advertisement. Substantial savings are assured all who shop here Saturday morning—radical price reductions prevail in every section.

Toilet Goods
Special Saturday morning sale of useful toilet articles at prices ranging from a fourth to a half less than usual.

Another swap this morning among the three top-liners adds seat to the race. Ben Hitchcock regains his perch again. He is a splendid worker. He does not waste time hanging around headquarters, but is up and off after subscriptions. His small brother, Harley, helps gather coupons for Ben, and Harley doesn't bit mind taking subscriptions either. Ben is such a bright, manly, polite little chap that he wins every one's interest. A gentleman who had never seen Ben called at headquarters yesterday and asked the scholarship manager to send the boy around to his office. He did so, and the result was that Ben came back with radiant face and a promise of a new annual subscription between now and the end of the time limit on that special prize of books that Ben wants so much.

Blossom Vincent, Elwyn Van Zandt and Helen Wilson were high-binders in scores yesterday. Lucky for the Pasadena boy that he did score in, or the Whittier girl would have passed him this morning.

A KIND PUBLIC.

So generous has been the response for Irene Wadey since she was taken ill that her score lifts her a row this morning. Her sister called at headquarters yesterday and reported that while Irene was better, she was still confined to her bed. The news this morning will be a good tonic for her. Nothing like hope to stimulate a person. Give her some more of the same medicine and we'll have her out in a few days bustling for herself.

THREE RISE.

Others who rise this morning are Fannie Wolff, Fannie McCarty, Reta Mitchell, Ralph McNitt and M. L. Benjamin, the Hollywood contestant. Is it possible that this suburb will be in last arise and support her candidate during this last quarter of the contest?

Juanita Carter is out for a winner. She is working by proxy in the person of her sister, Ramona, who is running her campaign. Yesterday morning Juanita's score advanced two places and she is trying hard to hold that eighteenth row, because Fannie Wolff, just below, is hustling for the same scholarship—the Dobinson School of Dramatic Art—and it is a question which one wins. Yesterday Juanita's mother took a hand, and when the mothers get busy things are doing. She and little Ramona landed almost a thousand points before 10 o'clock in the morning.

HE MUST WORK HARDER.

A big package of coupons was received at headquarters yesterday from Nogales, Ariz., for Wallie Swain, sent by Herbert Chatham. A few subscriptions turned in by Wallie himself also added to his score and strengthened his position, but if he wants to win that very choice scholarship, he will have to get up considerable more steam, as a boy who is several rungs higher up the ladder has an eye on the same institution and will win it away from the young soldier boy unless he rises considerably higher in the scale.

RACE FOR BOOKS.

In the race for special prizes, Ben Hitchcock leads the boys and Chonita Palomares the girls up to date. There is some lively hustling for the little library of popular books offered from the Broadway Department Store to the boy and girl who score in the most points from new subscriptions during the two weeks, August 12 to 24, inclusive.

COUPONS FOR CHINESE.

A string of 200 coupons, neatly put up in packages of twenty-five each and strung on white ribbons, were sent to headquarters yesterday from the New Testament Church for Margaret Chung. This artistic wreath of coupons will be a cherished souvenir of the contest and the good wishes of this particular church toward Miss Margaret Chung. The gift was brought in by Jessie Kam, who has been an earnest worker for Margaret.

A subscription for six months further built up her score, so that she rises a row this morning, which will be good news to the many friends of Margaret's who are anxiously watching her score.

FATHERLESS AND SICK MOTHER.

Miss May Roberts, the Santa Ana girl, rises a row, too, by reason of a new annual subscription and some coupons sent her by Mrs. A. Grover of No. 1150 Sunset Boulevard, who writes: "I wish to help Miss Roberts. She is a lovely, deserving girl, entirely dependent on her own exertions—fatherless and an invalid mother. I believe some people who have money would help the discouraged ones if they only knew them. Handicapped for means to run about for subscriptions, Miss Roberts nevertheless has done wonderfully well."

Miss Roberts is indeed in every way worthy of assistance in her very praiseworthy effort to help herself to a business education, that she may become self-supporting.

WILL SHE FAIL?

Mrs. A. Hunter sends thirty-five coupons for Gladys Eastman, whom she says she helped last year. Gladys won a six months' scholarship in the Los Angeles Business College then, but it looks as if she would fail to win any scholarship at all this year, unless she hustles around all time. Mrs. Hunter writes that Gladys is a member of Women of Woodcraft, and she thinks the ladies of that order could not show a fraternal feeling in a better way than by giving Gladys a helping hand.

A PIONEER SUBSCRIBER.

Mrs. Frank Stoddard of West Fourth street called at headquarters yesterday to have a little chat with the scholarship manager and express her interest in the contest. "It's twenty-one years tomorrow," she said, "since we began to take 'The Times.' We were just married and my husband's people had been taking it for years before—ever since it started. We live now in the same place we did then, although we have moved two or three times in the interim and built, but 'The Times' is delivered to us at the same address that it was first sent twenty-one years ago. We've never been without it a day since. I would as soon think of going without my breakfast as without my morning 'Times.'"

Mrs. Stoddard's eldest son is a student in the Polytechnic High School and she is interested to see Geraldine Fuller succeed as she is a Poly 'H' student, too. Ever since the first contest in 1901 Mrs. Stoddard has given her hearty support to some favorite in the race. I think these scholarship contests as conducted by 'The Times,' she said, "are a most excellent thing. Young people are thereby given an opportunity to earn a higher education which many of them could not possibly obtain in any other way."

Below is a partial list of scholarships which will be offered to contestants. Several other institutions will also be included. The scholarships below represent a valuation of $275.

Occidental Academy.
Fillmore School of Music.
Los Angeles Conservatory of Music and Arts.

Menashaer either and term of thirty lessons at Lyric School of Music.
Irwin Piano School.

CASH PRIZES.

In accordance with its usual custom during the six previous contests conducted by 'The Times,' special cash prizes will be offered in addition to the scholarship. This year the sum of $1200—$100 more than last year—will be divided among contestants ranking highest. An elegant prize piano from the Geo. J. Birkel Music Company will also be offered as a special prize to the contestant scoring highest. The cash prizes are designed to help defray the student's incidental or living expenses while attending school and will be divided according to the following scale:

1	Prize piano
2	$200
3	140
4	125
5	110
6	100
7	90
8	85
9	75
10	65
11	60
12	55
13	50
14	45
15	40
16	35
17	30
18	25

Persons wishing to aid any contestant can do so most effectively by filling out the subscription blank at the bottom of this page and sending it to 'The Times' office, together with the cash. Fill in the names of the contestant you desire to aid and you may be sure he or she will get proper credit for the points.

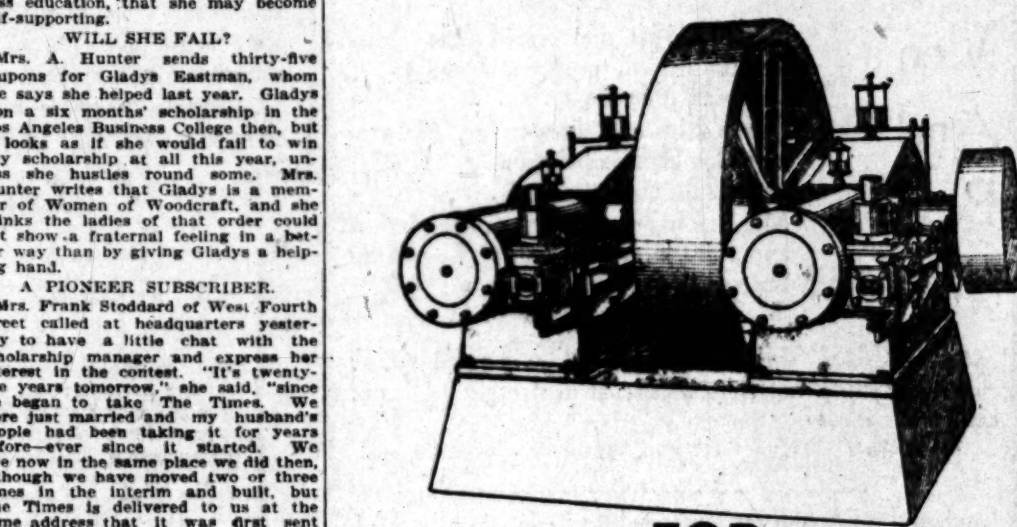

[In order that contestants may acquaint themselves with the scope and nature of the various educational institutions in which scholarships are offered, 'The Times' will print notices from time to time concerning them. This is done that contestants may choose intelligently the particular school they desire. This morning 'The Times' presents some of the advantages of the De Chauvenet Conservatory of Music and Dramatic Art.

DE CHAUVENET CONSERVATORY.

The De Chauvenet Conservatory of Music and Dramatic Art has been fortunate in the selection of its new location in the Fraternal Brotherhood building at 345 South Figueroa street, which is well adapted for the purposes of the school and is one of the most elegant structures given to musical uses in the city. The rooms used for teaching have been arranged with special reference to vibratory sound, causing the concert room to be specially adapted to the ease of speakers, singers and players. Dean de Chauvenet, who is in charge of the school, gives every department the supervision it requires and the aid of his advice and long experience. He has been at the head of three universities and was representative at the International Congress of Music at Paris, where he met some of the greatest musical authorities of the world. His method is original in that it holds that the perfect success, incorporating as it does, all the cumulative ideas of the European masters of music.

The school has been greatly strengthened by the untiring assistance of Mrs. Helen de Chauvenet, who has, for the past ten months, given her attention principally to the vocal department. She is a graduate of the Des Moines College of Music and has a pure soprano voice of great sweetness and power. In Colorado Mrs. de Chauvenet took a post-graduate course from F. M. English, B.A., of Oxford, who has also studied much in Berlin and Leipzig. She has been a member in a number of leading churches

SAYS YUMA IS GROWING.

Woman Barrister of Arizona Gives Glowing Account of Advancement City is Making.

Attorney Mary A. Wupperman of Yuma, Ariz., is in Los Angeles visiting relatives. Mrs. Wupperman says that Yuma is growing steadily and that many new improvements are being installed. Several public buildings, including a new Courthouse, are in course of construction and considerable street work is being done. In addition a new gas plant is being built and also a $15,000 ice plant. The city is prospering says Mrs. Wupperman, and but little property is for sale inside the city limits.

The attorney adds that there is a great demand for agricultural lands in Yuma county and that new settlers are entering the Territory daily.

ABOUT WILMINGTON.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the lower court that the reincorporation of Wilmington was legal. Suit was brought by the Chamber of Commerce of this city to prevent the reincorporation of Wilmington. The affirmation of the decision rendered in the lower court gives the Bannings title to about 1000 acres of tide lands. The Southern Pacific Company is also benefited. It built a trestle across the flats without obtaining consent from the city of Wilmington.

BIBLE LESSONS.

FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS AND OTHER BIBLE STUDENTS.

Prepared for The Times by J. S. Kirtley.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 19.

Leviticus xiv, 5-22: "The Day of Atonement."

THE CONNECTION.

The chapters just preceding tell us of ceremonial cleanness—clean food and bodies—and the ceremonial treatment for diseases and defilements. Once in the year the great day of atonement for the sins of the people was to be observed and the most solemn day of the calendar. During the year the various known sins had been atoned for, regularly, promptly, but now a general atonement for such as may have been overlooked and for the general habit of sinfulness was made.

THE LESSON.

"Instructions and Preparation." (Verses 5-10.) "And he shall take of the congregation of the children of Israel two kids of the goats for a sin offering, and one ram for a burnt offering. And Aaron shall offer his bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and for his house. And he shall take the two goats, and present them before the Lord at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. And Aaron shall cast lots upon the two goats; one lot for the Lord, and the other lot for the scapegoat. And Aaron shall bring the goat upon which the Lord's lot fell, and offer him for a sin offering. But the goat on which the lot fell to be the scapegoat, shall be presented alive before the Lord, to make an atonement with him, and to let him go for a scapegoat into the wilderness." (1.) The day of the Lord's atonement was the day of the Lord's atonement.

There were five chief festivals of the Jews. Passover came in April. Pentecost came at the end of May when they brought in the first fruits of the new crop. The Feast of Trumpets was on the first day of the autumn month, the first month of the civil year. With trumpets they entered the year. The tenth day of that month was the day of Atonement, and on the fifteenth day came the Feast of Tabernacles, when the people lived in tents seven days. (2.) The significance of the day. It told the people that they had sinned and it would keep alive in their minds the sense of sin. They were especially guilty of sin—the people in general murmuring along the way, special sins of prominent people, like Nadab and Abihu. But the day was to be observed through all the centuries, for human nature would continue to be sinful. It further told the people of the atonement that was to be made by their real sin-bearing. The blood of beasts could not make an actual, only a pictorial, symbolical, constructive, atonement. The people knew very little of this, its prophetic meaning at the time, but that was taught later and it is clear to us now. This was the time to make amends for all the mistakes and faults and sins of the past and seek reconciliation, men with God and with each other. Parents and children, neighbors and friends got together and differences and wrongs were covered up and concealed from view forever, for to atone means to cover up.

(3.) The animals used. There were four—two goats, a ram, a bullock. There were to be used as sin offerings, two of them by being slain, the other by being sent into the wilderness where no one lived, thus symbolizing the sending of our sins into the region of forgetfulness, as God says "their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more against them." The ram was made a burnt offering of consecration for the forgiven, redeemed people. (4.) The observance of the day. (Verses 11-22.) And Aaron shall bring the bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and for his house, and an atonement for himself, and for his house, and shall kill the bullock of the sin offering which is for himself. "And he shall take a censer full of burning coals of fire from off the altar before the Lord, and his hands full of sweet incense beaten small, and bring it within the veil: And he shall put the incense upon the fire before the Lord, that the cloud of the incense may cover the mercy seat that is upon the testimony, that he die not: And he shall take of the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it with his finger upon the mercy seat, and before the mercy seat: And there shall be no man in the tabernacle of the congregation when he goeth in to make an atonement in the holy place until he come out, and have made an atonement for himself, and for his household, and for all the congregation of Israel. And he shall go out unto the altar that is before the Lord, and make an atonement for it, and shall take of the blood of the bullock, and of the blood of the goat, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about. And he shall sprinkle of the blood upon it with his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and hallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Israel. And when he hath made an end of reconciling the holy place, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar, he shall bring the live goat, and Aaron shall lay both his hands upon the head of the live goat, and confess over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their transgressions in all their sins, putting them upon the head of the goat, and shall send him away by the hand of a fit man into the wilderness. And the goat shall bear upon him all their iniquities, and shall let go the goat in the wilderness." (5.) The priest atones for himself. It was out in the court in which were the altar and the laver. The priest was in his white robes, symbol of purity. Yet he bowed in the attitude of a penitent, laid both of his hands on the head of the bullock and confessed his sins in the words, "O Lord, I have sinned, I have done wrong, I have transgressed before Thee, I and my house, O Lord, I beseech, cover over my sins, iniquities and transgressions which I have committed before Thee, I and my house, even as it is written in the law of Moses, Thy servant."

Next he took both the blood of the bullock and censer full of incense into the Most Holy Place, within the veil, first allowing the incense to fill the place, and then sprinkled the blood seven times toward the mercy seat. This was for himself and his family. The priest had the iniquities of the people. Besides there were many ways in which the priest could contract ceremonial defilement as the people could not. The writer to the Hebrews, in New Testament times, says that Christ is a perfect High Priest, because He

APPLE CROP VERY POOR. Yield to be light, both in United States and Canada, owing to unfavorable weather conditions. This season's apple crop will be as far below the normal in some sections of Canada as in the United States. The opinion prevails that apples will this season bring better prices than in any other year.

The large apple-growing districts of Canada are said to have suffered from a spell of exceedingly dry weather at a time most fatal to the growth of the fruit.

Owing to exceptionally unfavorable conditions throughout the apple-raising districts of the United States, the yield will be much less than that of last year. While winter apples may make a fair showing, early and fall varieties will be poor in quality and comparatively few in number. In some sections, the orchards are complete failures.

In the districts near the Great Lakes some orchards, it is reported, are bare of fruit, while others will yield very lightly. Yellow Transparent, Duchess and Astrachan apples will be especially limited in supply. Indications are for a light crop of Ben Davis, Russets, Kings and Baldwin varieties.

In the Annapolis Valley, the largest apple-growing district of Canada, the apple crop is said to be exceptionally good, and there will be an abundant yield of all varieties.

Owing to the shortage of the apple crop in this country, most of the Canadian crop will be marketed here, instead of in Europe.

JUMPS HEAVY BAIL.

Fugitive Clairvoyant Fails to Appear When Case Is Called—Wanted in North Dakota.

Edwin K. Earl, alias Charles V. Brockway, alias Charles Brock, alias Fay, arrested in Los Angeles ten days ago on a charge of having defrauded James Brown of Fargo, North Dakota, yesterday failed to put in his appearance in police court and his bail of $3000 was forfeited.

Earl was arrested after he had been pointed out by Mrs. Zoe Russell, daughter of his victim. The woman had recognized him on the street, followed him to his place of business at No. 120 South Spring street, and caused his arrest.

James Brown, the complaining witness against Earl, is over seventy years of age. He spent $3000 in trying to track down the man who had taken his money, and was prepared to return to Fargo and prosecute the case, if he could not find him.

According to Brown, Earl worked as a fortune teller in Fargo during a big land boom. He (Brown) went to the fortune teller to find out what lucky number to draw from the land lottery. He was told to draw 19000 in an envelope and take it to Earl every day for five days. Certain incantations were breathed over the letter and Brown believed that the money was his. Earl changed letters on him and gave him one with only a piece of blank paper in it.

He started out after Earl as soon as he discovered his loss and tracked him clear across the country. Earl's arrest in Los Angeles came from the accidental recognition of him by Mrs. Russell.

He was to have been tried on a fugitive warrant in police court yesterday. That trial was simply determining whether there was sufficient ground to send him back. The requisition papers were sent in search of him, but any flight on his part, but yesterday when he was called to appear before the justice he did not answer. An officer was sent in search of him, but failed to find him. Then his $3000 was declared forfeited and the police will make an effort to head him off.

The police learned that Earl had money on deposit in three banks in Los Angeles, each bank having the deposit under a different name.

BEAST'S FROLIC.

HUMAN FLESH IS DOG'S DELIGHT.

SEEMS TO HAVE, TOO, FINE SENSE OF HUMOR.

Drags Motorcycle Officer from Wheel, Jarring Remarks Out of Him—Selects Fat Man for Evening Meal, but Gets Taste Only of Trousers—Canine Catchers Foiled.

Go to a certain officer of the motor cycle squad and ask him to tell you the tale of the black dog. If you get away without being hurt you will be fortunate. Make the same request of a portly individual located at a hack drivers' stand on South Spring street and he will start for his buggy whip and agitation at the Police Station and yesterday Justice Summerfield spent the best part of an hour looking over his law books to see if he couldn't in some way get at one of the most objectionable canines in Los Angeles.

The story is causing the dog officers this day have ever been acquainted with. It is owned by a Russian family on Turner street and directs the affairs of the neighborhood.

The complaining witness against the dog is Al Harding. Nobody knows Mr. Harding by that name, but speak of "Fat Al," the hack driver, and 90 per cent of the sporting public will know whom you are talking about. Incidentally he has tapped the gong over more lighters than almost any other man in the country.

Harding lives on Turner street, at No. 427. The dog lives across the street. In some way or other the dog became distrustful of Harding. It waited until he came home one night and then stole quietly up behind the hack driver and used its teeth.

He made two futile efforts to get rid of the beast, and then decided to run. He ran but the dog kept its hold. He dashed into his yard and up on the front porch. The dog went with him. He got his body inside the door and called for help. A member of the household came to his aid and shut the door, but the dog went on and connected Harding's trousers. Now the driver wants revenge. So do the neighbors, and so do motor cycle officers.

No. 427. The dog lives across the street. In some way or other the dog became distrustful of Harding. It waited until he came home one night and then stole quietly up behind the hack driver and used its teeth.

He made two futile efforts to get rid of the beast, and then decided to run. He ran but the dog kept its hold. He dashed into his yard and up on the front porch. The dog went with him. He got his body inside the door and called for help. A member of the household came to his aid and shut the door, but the dog went on and connected Harding's trousers. Now the driver wants revenge. So do the neighbors, and so do motor cycle officers.

Thursday afternoon two officers invaded the district. The dog looked them over and walked out in the street. He took a flying leap as one of the motor cycles sped by and connected the dog's body with the machine. He hung on. The officer was dragged backward off the machine and dumped in the road. The machine was ditched in the gutter. The fall jarred the dog loose and jarred a few remarks out of the officer. He arose and carefully wiped the scenery from his garments. Then he drew his revolver and went on a still hunt for the dog, but the beast was hiding.

At the request of the motor cycle man, dog catchers went to the neighborhood. They saw the dog. The dog also saw them, and retired to the house of its owner. After staying a sound for an hour the dog catchers learned that the black dog had a license.

Now the neighborhood is at a loss how to act in the matter. The dogs who have been bitten say that the dog is a Russian dog. The others who have been bitten say the dog is well, never mind what they say.

The police are keeping their eyes on doggie and Justice Summerfield is searching both the criminal and political codes in a vain effort to secure a section under which to issue a warrant for the dog.

GOOD AMERICAN BUSINESS

In July, 1907, there was a decrease of $36,145,770 in our public interest-bearing debt; there was an increase of $2,659,704 in our domestic receipts compared with July, 1906; an increase of $738,068 in our internal revenue receipts; and of $209,842 in our miscellaneous receipts. In all an increase of $2,607,613 in our total receipts, while the total increase in our expenditures (outside of interest-bearing bonds retired) was only $999,424.

Comparing August 1, 1907, with August 1, 1906, there was an increase of $23,974,122 in our money in circulation, forming part of an increase of $85,000,000 in gold certificates out, while the "cash in the treasury" totaled $1,684,605,442. Nearly $157,000,000 of this was on deposit in our national banks.

What is there to worry about in American business when our railway traffic managers are able to say: "We are pleased with the crop outlook, especially in Kansas." "Our loadings are increasing; Oklahoma is turning out more wheat than was expected, cotton has also made gratifying improvement." "Business is holding its own." "Our tonnage is keeping up well." "Doing more business than last year, merchandise is increasing, and crops are making excellent progress." Pittsburgh bank clearings reached $248,000,000 in July. No other July touched those figures within $25,000,000. One hundred million dollars increase is the record for the first seven months of this year. As Pittsburgh is essentially an industrial center, those figures tell a big story of continuing American industrial prosperity.

There were $182,000,000 dividends and interest disbursements in July, and $76,000,000 more in August. Nearly $20,000,000 of the August payments were dividends earned by our busy factories, and the total is nearly $3,000,000 more than was paid out for industrial dividends in August, 1906.

Gold included, American commerce with Alaska last fiscal year was nearly $55,000,000, an increase of about $1,000,000 over 1906 fiscal year. "Seward's Ice-Box" is now owning these days. Exports from the port of New York to July 27 of this year reached $62,400,000, an increase of $2,153,000 over the same period of last year.

Southern Railway for June, net gain of $109,000; Southern Pacific net gain $151,000; Alabama and Great Southern, $22,000; Pennsylvania, $367,000; Union Pacific, $332,000; Atchafalpa, $191,000; Illinois Central, $604,000; St. Louis and Southwestern, $567,000; thirty-one roads for June, net gain, $2,575,000. Atchafalpa, net gain for fiscal year, $1,622,000; Southern Pacific, for fiscal year, $6,782,328; and others, net gain. Where is the business "let up" in those results?

Bank clearings of the principal cities for the week ended August 3, $2,705,000,000, an increase of $50,000,000 over the same week of last year. Savings-bank depositors in the United States, says Finance, are increasing at the rate of over $200,000 a year; their deposits gaining within a shade of $84,000,000 a year; and the accounts averaging $411 each. Those figures tell the story of American prosperity in a nutshell.

Unbearable. LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—Editor of The Times: I have been reading your issue of today with interest and pleasure. It is certainly true, as you say, that the public was agitated at the election of the President. The Republican was soon called by its name, although officially it was "The Executive Mansion." Roosevelt became its name. White House it is now, but there is so much of the old name in the new name that it is retained.

In the third year of administration as President, Roosevelt was offered for the house for the President's house, a native of Ireland, a successful competitor. He was elected by the design of the Duke of Leinster in Dublin. He planned a three-man team of being elected. Washington knew of the plan and was agitated at the election. Though he is generally credited with making long trips to feel the public pulse, he is actually the President's right hand. Whether this work is done in the person of the President himself or of "some one who will carry out my man in Washington to maintain a coach and six. The Van Ness house, too, is haunted, and the legend says that on the night of the great fire of 1871, the house was so full of people that the firemen had to pull a ghostly coach. The house will soon be torn down to make way for the building to be erected by the Bureau of American Republics.

HISTORIC HOMES OF WASHINGTON.

BY FREDERICK J. HASKIN.

The oldest residence in the city of Washington, the one whose walls have seen the men who have given to the world the name of the President himself or of "some one who will carry out my man in Washington to maintain a coach and six. The Van Ness house, too, is haunted, and the legend says that on the night of the great fire of 1871, the house was so full of people that the firemen had to pull a ghostly coach. The house will soon be torn down to make way for the building to be erected by the Bureau of American Republics.

During the administration of Gen. Jackson the northern portion, the one oftenest seen in pictures, was added. No other important alterations were made until President Roosevelt's time, when a half-million dollars was spent in improvements. When Mrs. Cleveland came to the White House a bride, she had visions of entertaining many of her girl friends, knowing what an event in their lives it would be, but it could not be done, for there are not enough sleeping rooms at the White House to permit of entertaining more than one or two persons at a time. Despite the fact that the nation has outgrown the House, as Hoban and Washington foresaw, it is still beautiful and in its simple grace typifies the democratic spirit of the greatest of republics.

Junior Washington for decades. A thrilling story of murder and mystery has been written with this house as a theater of events, and it is often spoken of as "The Filigree Ball" house. It is owned by the American Institute of Architects, and is kept open for public inspection and curiosity.

The first home erected on Lafayette Square, the beautiful park in front of the White House, was the handsome house built in 1819 by Commodore Stephen Decatur. It is also the work of Latrobe. It was occupied by Decatur for only a year, and from it he went to his fatal meeting "on the field of honor" where he was killed by Baron, Baron Tuxil, the Russian Minister, next lived there, Henry Clay made it his home, and Martin van Buren lived there as Secretary of State. It was occupied by Edward Livingston. It was the scene of many brilliant social gatherings, and the royal standard of Great Britain floated over it during the visit of the Duke of Wellington. Just before the war it was the home of Judah P. Benjamin, Senator from Louisiana, afterwards member of Jefferson Davis's Cabinet in the Confederate States government, and still later an eminent jurist of the English bar. Other famous men and many social leaders have lived there, but the house is now closed. It is owned by the family of Gen. Edward Fitzgerald Beale.

CIRCULATE THESE Big Facts

The series of three impressive articles, in The Sunday Times, on the development of Los Angeles, have been assembled in a single half-size 8-page sheet and are now ready for widespread distribution.

Eight Captivating Pages.

These facts, shown in the imposing tables and charts, are convincing evidence of the wonderful strides in population, finance and manufacturing industries made by Los Angeles, the freest city in America. A wide dissemination of this "meaty" literature will forever set at rest the "doubting Thomases" and jealous neighbors who are harping against the "City of the Angels."

Therefore, all the text and tables of demonstration have been printed in a convenient, 8-page sheet, and are now offered to merchants and others (who will mail them abroad) on the following basis:

In 5000 lots, $5 per thousand. Purchasers to have the privilege of having a red line printed on the front page, reading, "Compliments of John Jones," without extra charge. In addition, The Times will insert, if desired, a page advertisement for any purchaser, charging only the cost to the office in addition to the $5 per thousand.

In less than 5000 lots and down to 2500 copies, $7.50 per thousand, same conditions as 5000 lots.

Less than 2500 and down to 1000 copies, $10 per thousand, same conditions as in 5000 lots.

1000 copies or less, 1c per copy straight, with no extra printing. Send 2c for a single copy.

FOR HIGHWAYS.

WILL TRY NEW PAVING PLAN.

HIGHWAY EXPERIMENT TO BE MADE IN PASADENA.

Specifications Adopted for the Laying by the Pacific Electric of its Portion of the Asphalted Streets. May Have Important Bearing on the Good Roads Campaign.

Office of the Times, No. 24 S. Raymond avenue, PASADENA, Aug. 10.—At a special meeting of the City Council yesterday specifications were adopted for the laying by the Pacific Electric of its portion of the asphalted streets in this city. The plan is in many respects new, but the officials of the road expect many advantages. The idea has been partially tried out in Long Beach, but the local City Council has made several amendments to the scheme which promise to be for the good of the community. The railway company proposes to use oil macadam in connection with the asphalt and promises a better roadway and more convenient crossings for vehicles.

The specifications were laid before the Council by J. A. Bell, assistant engineer in the maintenance of right of way of the department of the Pacific Electric Railway. They provide that the old surface and the trucks shall be removed and a trench dug down to the natural soil. This will be rolled with a twelve-ton roller. On top of this will be placed broken rock from the Santa Monica quarry to the depth of three inches, which is to be wet down and rolled with the big roller.

Upon this the ties and rock will be replaced and the whole brought to grade by the use of sand gravel lamped with a bar and roller. The paving proper upon this foundation will consist of crushed rock and oil in the quantity of one and one-half gallons to the square yard. This will be tamped with sand and screened fine rock and rolled until the whole is smooth and the surface is uniform. The method of track laying then by using the asphalt as generally done. It is stated that these specifications are somewhat different from those used in Long Beach, but the officials of the railway are confident that the new plan will be in the nature of an experiment, and that it will be found to be a better one than the old plan.

DEFER CONDEMNATION.

Condemnation proceedings against the Blossom and Burdette properties of the extension of Grand avenue have been postponed for one week in the hope that the city and the owners can come to some friendly agreement. J. Lockwood appeared before the City Council in the interest of Mr. Blossom. He showed a detailed map of the proposed improvement and stated that in his opinion the extension of Grand avenue would serve no useful purpose and at the same time would give a severe blow to the improvement of the city.

LEAPS OFF PIER AND SAVES HER.

HERO'S STRUGGLE SUCCESSFUL IN LONG BEACH.

Woman in Fit Falls from Wharf and Man Jumps—Eighteen Feet into the Water to Her Rescue—Spaniard Falls from Launch at Landing and is Severely Injured.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 10.—In the third of a collection of Mrs. D. A. Cullen of Second street and Atlantic avenue threw herself from the pier this morning and was rescued with great difficulty by O. A. Drummond, a tourist from Denver, Colo., who was fishing near her and dived from the pier, eighteen feet above the water, and supported her until a skiff was brought.

CRUSHED AGAINST PIER.

Mike Delgado, a Spaniard from Los Angeles, in landing from the launch Fashion at the end of the pier, this afternoon made a misstep and fell into the water. Just at that instant a heavy swell carried the boat against the pier and he was crushed between the hull and a mooring pile.

PERSONS ON THE LANDING SEIZED HIM.

Persons on the landing seized him and after a struggle against his body, Delgado, who is a man of 30 years of age, was at once removed to the hospital. It is thought that his chances of recovery are slight. His body was severely bruised and in addition he received internal injuries.

BY MOTOR TO SLOWDOWN.

THE WILD, MAD RIDE OF THE MILLBANK SOLICITORS.

BY OWEN OLIVER.

We are Flint & Stone, solicitors, of Millbank. Local with call us the Millstones; but this is a jest.

"Stone," said I, "I have been thinking, 'I rubbed my hands, that Andrew McKenzie did not behave well in the matter of that land. His last letter was scarcely polite.'"

"Almost offensive," he insinuated we were lacking in truth and honesty."

"The offer that we made him was liberal."

"Almost reckless,"

"The price he asked was excessive."

"A bare-faced attempt at extortion," I said warmly. "If you would like to make him an offer--shall we say $3,000?"

"Ten thousand, five hundred dollars," said Stone, quietly. I looked at him in amazement.

"It is barely worth $10,000," Stone held up his finger.

"If the slowdown and Goughly railway should propose to build a freight station there?"

"Ah," I said.

"A little bird," he remarked, playfully, "has whispered to me that they do. I fear they will have to give at least $12,500."

"He passed me over a letter from the 'little bird.'"

"I went over to Slowdown by the 11:18 train," McKenzie became civil as soon as I explained the object of my visit.

"We'll deal with the matter in a generous spirit," he said.

"Will you make it $10,500?" He is a man with no conscience whatever.

"Stone would never agree to a penny more than $10,500," I declared. "It's out of the question."

"You'll make it a free conveyance?"

"No, no! But we'll do it cheaply and quickly."

"By the new year?"

"By Christmas," I promised. So we closed the bargain.

"Stone rubbed his hands when I told him."

"We will take it over for signature on Tuesday," he pronounced.

"We had investigated the title during the previous negotiations. I saw to the matter myself, as Stone was busy trying a new motor--a form of conveyance of which I do not approve. I was reading the document for the last time, on Monday morning, when my partner rushed into our room."

"Put on your top coat and hat and come," I looked at the clock.

"We're too late for the train."

"We'll go on the motor."

"Umph," I must confess that I did not trust it. "I don't see why we need be in such a hurry."

"His brother is going over by the train. He has heard something about the station."

"The meddlesome ass," I rushed into my coat. "How did he find it out?"

"Some rascally clerk in the company's office. He ought to be dismissed."

"Stone clapped my hat on my head and we went out."

The motor was at the door, puffing and rattling in an unpleasant manner. I did not like venturing on the thing, but Stone hustled me into a seat. Then he turned a wheel and it bolted forward with a jerk and threw my hat into the road. It was nearly a new hat, and some small boys were playing football with it when we turned the corner.

"Why didn't you stop?" I demanded.

"We've barely time to beat the train."

"I shall catch my death of cold."

"Tie a handkerchief around your head," he suggested.

I commenced knotting my handkerchief at the corners, but Stone turned so sharply at the end of the street, and we ran against the curb. In catching hold of the car to save myself I let the handkerchief go. Some of the umbrella went also. I will not say that I was glad, but I pined it would be a lesson to him, and I told him so.

"One must take these little things philosophically," he said. "I've a spare handkerchief that I'll lend you."

"It was a large silk one, with an excellent head covering, but unfortunately it was bright red in color, and excited remarks from people we passed."

"It goes," he remarked, with satisfaction.

"I shall be glad when it stops," I replied. "I don't consider it is under proper control."

"My dear Flint, I can guide it to an inch. See me run over that piece of orange peel; and that fragment of paper. Now round that little thing--Good Heavens!"

He had overlooked a heap of stones, and we mounted high over them. I turned a backward somersault on the seat, and only saved myself from going out of the car by clapping him round the neck with both legs.

"You've knocked my cap off!" he complained. "With this cold wind I shall be laid up for a month."

"One must take these little things philosophically," I reminded him.

"You had better make a cap out of another handkerchief!"

"Umph!" He'll have to tear while I do it."

"I don't understand the apparatus."

"You just turn it the way you want to go," he said. "The road is wide enough."

"It's wide," I agreed doubtfully.

"But I don't know if it's wide enough." However, he insisted upon my taking the wheel, while he fumbled with a muffer--a yellow one spotted with green.

"There's a trap coming!" I shouted in alarm.

"It's a mile off. Mind the boy!" I tried to mind the boy, but the thing went straight at him. However, he got out of the way somehow. "Keep to the left. You'll be into the trap!"

There was a grating sound, and the men in it pulled up and shouted after us.

"You turned the wheel the wrong way," Stone explained.

"We've smashed the back seat, and--"

"Why don't you finish the cap, and steer yourself?" I demanded.

"It takes all my time to look after you. Where are you going? The right man, the right! You're going into Breakneck lane!" He seized the wheel, but we were already in the lane.

"It's the quickest way," I declared.

"Quickest! It's unrideable. Look at the policeman!"

We rushed upon the policeman like an avalanche. He booted for the footpath, shouting something about a county council and ten miles an hour.

"They've escaped from an asylum," cried a lady as we passed. "Look at their caps!"

"If we aren't smashed, we shall beat the train by twenty minutes," said Stone.

"It means $2000."

"Leave the car!" I shrieked. "If we--On!" The car skipped over a rough place and I nearly went out.

"Hold tighter," he told me.

"How can I?" I asked indignantly. I was holding as tightly as I could.

"It was necessary. The machine was no longer running, but taking long leaps, and whenever we turned a corner we went up on one wheel. When we came to Slowdown road we were going forty miles an hour."

"The last half mile!" he said cheerfully.

"And the steepest!" I groaned.

"I'll bring you almost to my door."

"The cow!" The cow! I shrieked. There was a soft thud, and the remains of a cow were bundled out of the way.

"More damages," he said.

"Just as we came to Slowdown a brewer's van galloped out from a yard. Stone turned hurriedly to avoid it, and we reached the pond--at the deep end reserved for swimmers. There was a terrific splash. We were swept from our seats by a torrent of water. There was a violent explosion. Then some fellow got me out with a pitefork."

When I had got some of the water--and the fork--out of me, I looked round and saw Stone wringing his garments and his hands.

"The conveyance is ruined," he wailed.

"Get it out of your pocket," I cried, "before it's too wet." He stared at me for a moment. Then he pulled it out. It was scarcely dry at all.

"I had forgotten this conveyance," he owned.

"Come along," I commanded. "The train isn't yet."

"Flint," he said warmly, "your presence of mind is invaluable."

We toiled up the hill as fast as we could and reached McKenzie's just as the train was whistling in the distance.

"Good heavens!" he cried, when we entered his room, dripping and breathless.

"Well, well."

"We came by motor," Stone explained.

"I thought you'd come by sea," he laughed loudly. Persons of his nationality have a perverted notion of humor.

"We had an accident. If you will sign the conveyance--"

"You'll change first," he suggested, pretending that he was trying not to grin. "There's no such haste."

"Business before pleasure," I reminded him, trying to laugh.

"Some folks take their pleasure sadly," he laughed, as if he had said something funny.

"I don't see anything to laugh at, Mr. McKenzie," said my partner with dignity.

"If you could see yourselves, mon," he cried, holding his sides. "Look! more like a pair of brigands than honest solicitors."

I was about to retort with some asperity upon his looks--he is a great, raw-boned, red-headed and red-bearded man--when they looked at us; but we affected not to notice them, and hurried through the business. We had barely concluded, when Donald McKenzie rushed in.

"Is the conveyance signed?" he demanded.

"It is," we told him.

"You are a pair of thieves!" he roared.

"There is such a thing as libel," I mentioned.

"And false pretenses," said Donald McKenzie. "When you proposed to buy that land--"

"We have bought it," I pointed out suavely.

"You have heard that the railway company wanted to build there." We rubbed our hands.

"We keep our ears open," said Stone blandly.

"I told you this morning that I had heard something about the company and land."

"We were obliged for the hint," Stone acknowledged politely.

"Otherwise you would have stayed elsewhere."

"Keep our ears open," I suggested jocularly. He banged the table.

"The McKenzies rose together."

"You'll go!" they said.

"When we picked ourselves up at the bottom of the stairs, Stone was in favor of an action for libel, and I require one book each. There are two books for each of the other letters of the alphabet."

In these books there are ten blank pages on each side of a printed page. The blank pages are gradually filled in with new names, corrections and additions.

In the general-delivery department an accurate list of changes of address, forwarding addresses, etc., are kept by means of a card system. In another department are kept the letters wrongly addressed. After being advertised for a certain time, these letters, if not called for, are sent to the Dead Letter Office.

SALESMEN PLAN PICNIC.

Hamburger Employees Will Take Possession of Beach Resort This Afternoon for Annual Outing.

The employees of Hamburger's store will take possession of Playa del Rey, this afternoon. At 12:30 o'clock the entire force, with few exceptions, will start for the beach town to spend the rest of the day. Ten special cars will line up in front of the store to collect the picnicers at starting time.

The Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company has granted a special rate for the occasion and arrangements have been made with the different concessionaires whereby all of the attractions at the beach will be turned over to the visitors. The dancing pavilion throughout the afternoon will be closed to all but the Hamburger party and the bath-house will likewise exclude all outsiders.

Swimming races and other athletic contests will be held, the proprietors of the store having provided the prizes for the different events. Arrangements have been made whereby those who desire can indulge in boating and fishing and a general good time will be provided for all.

Refreshments at the party reaches the beach, dinner will be served. The afternoon will be divided up so as to give a time for each of the attractions. The party will start home about 6 o'clock in the evening.

POSTOFFICE DIRECTORY.

It is Now Being Compiled--Upon Its Accuracy Depends Correct Delivery of Tons of Matter.

A large force of postal clerks is compiling the postoffice directory for the ensuing year. Upon the accuracy of this work depends the correct forwarding of tons of mail matter. Each year the clerks work overtime on this special duty for several weeks.

There are 140,000 names to be verified and over 250,000 slips to be sent out by the carriers for verification of present addresses.

Copies of the city directory are divided into thirty-nine smaller books. The letters B, C, H, M, S and W are each given three books, U and V only require one book each. There are two books for each of the other letters of the alphabet.

In these books there are ten blank pages on each side of a printed page. The blank pages are gradually filled in with new names, corrections and additions.

In the general-delivery department an accurate list of changes of address, forwarding addresses, etc., are kept by means of a card system. In another department are kept the letters wrongly addressed. After being advertised for a certain time, these letters, if not called for, are sent to the Dead Letter Office.

DEMISE OF HERO.

States to George Robinson for his heroic conduct in saving the life of Hon. William H. Seward, Secretary of State of the United States, April 14, 1865.

On the reverse side in bas-relief is the picture of Col. Robinson struggling with the assassin Payne at Secretary Seward's bedside.

UNUSUAL PROMOTION.

For some years Col. Robinson was a clerk in the War Department and during the administration of President Hayes the friends of Col. Robinson insisted that he be permanently and suitably rewarded for his heroism. The Legislature of Maine, his native State, then passed a resolution asking that his brave act be formally recognized and in 1879 he was appointed by President Hayes to be paymaster in the United States army, ranking as major.

He was stationed at San Antonio, Brownsville and El Paso, Tex.; Fort Union, N. M.; San Francisco, Los Angeles and Denver during different periods of his career. He was retired August 12, 1896, and on April 23, 1904, was promoted to be lieutenant-colonel.

The deceased was one of the managers of the Grand Army of the Republic and has always been a faithful and devoted comrade in the order.

AS ORANGE RANCHER.

Col. Robinson bought a fine orange grove in Pomona in 1892, and in 1894 went there to make his home, where he has since resided. He was a member of the Washington Masonic Lodge and Chapter and of Southern California never drank. He is 6 feet 4 inches in height and weighs 250 pounds.

Dr. Price's Wheat Flake Cereal
Is beneficial for all people. It contains a proportion of the wheat phosphates and bohdyrates that it will take the place of the nerves and blood.
